Badly Burned in Vain Effort to Save Her Atlantic City Cottage.

Her screams attracted the attention of neighbors, and a dozen or more women, headed by a druggist, formed a bucket brigade and passed water from a nearby well. They were unable to save Mrs. Doerschner's house, but extinguished the flames which had spread to an adjoining cottage. Mrs. Doerschner's loss is $15,000, partly insured.

STRUCK DOWN BY STEAMER, TWO GIRLS DROWNED

Were Rowing Across Ohio on Return from a Social Call.

BROTHER OF ONE SAW ACCIDENT

While rowing home from a social visit to a relation two Allegheny young women were drowned in the Ohio river last evening. Their skiff was run down by a towboat, and as not even a vestige of the boat has been found, it is supposed that the bodies were terribly mangled and perhaps dismembered. They were:

BRIDGET MADDEN, aged 18, of No. 1006 Shields street.

MRS. MAGGIE MILLER, aged 19, lived with her father, Andrew Martin, at No. 1005 Shields street.

The harrowing scene was viewed by Arthur Martin, the 16-year-old brother of Mrs. Miller. He was on the south side of the river, a quarter of a mile away, when he saw his sister and her companion struck down by the steamboat.

Mrs. Miller was the wife of Walter Miller, a bartender; Bridget Madden was employed at the Windsor Springs Company's works, only a block from her home.

Were Good Oarswomen.

She was a tall, handsome girl, highly respected in the neighborhood in which she lived. Her home is only a block from the river, and Bridget was a good oarswoman, so when Mrs. Miller, in her presence, said that she intended to visit her aunt, Mrs. Jennings, Bridget offered to go with her and row her across the river.

Shortly after 6 o'clock the two young women, who live just across the street from one another, started out, hired a skiff and rowed across to Mrs. Eliza Jennings' house, in Singer's row, on the south side of the river.

Young Arthur Martin laughingly refused to accompany his sister and her friend, when they suggested that he go along, saying that he wouldn't trust himself to Bridget's skill.

He walked over to the South Side and arrived shortly after the girls arrived.

Just before 8 p. m., while it was still light, the girls left the Jennings house and started to row home. Arthur remained behind on the river bank, talking to some friends, and idly following with his eyes the wake of the skiff. His sister was rowing.

Tale of Accident.

"They were close to the Allegheny side," said the lad last night, "when I saw the Mayflower excursion steamboat coming down the stream, between the skiff and the Allegheny shore. My sister had resolved on hot oars, evidently to let the Mayflower pass. At the same moment the Little Fred, a towboat, was coming up stream. She was pushing a couple of fuel flats ahead of her, and it seemed to me, as if the girls did not see the Little Fred, for the flats were low on the water and of course the bulk of the steamboat, which might have warned them, was on account of the flat ahead of her, some distance below the girls. I thought the skiff was clear of the two flats of the Little Fred and the Mayflower, but suddenly the end of one of the flats struck the stern of the skiff. It either knocked the stern in or pressed it below the surface of the water, for the boat began to fill and Bridget jumped from the stern seat towards my sister and grabbed hold of her. At that instant the flats passed between my eyes and the skiff and I saw no more."

Boy Fainted in Race.

Horrified by the accident to his sister young Martin started to run to Allegheny up West Carson street, and over the Point suspension and Union bridges, but sank exhausted on the Point bridge, where he was picked up in a faint. After being restored he was sent home in a street car. Martin said that neither the Mayflower nor the Little Fred stopped to aid the girls, but passed on.

The accident was also seen from the Allegheny shore and immediately skiffs put out from there, and men with grappling hooks and draghets began to look for the drowned girls. At midnight the bodies had not been found.

HENRY LANCASTER IS NOW IN PRISON AT PARSONS, W. VA.

Wanted at Elkins on Charge of Killing Chief of Police Wilmoth.

FOUND ASLEEP IN WOODS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Parsons, W. Va., Aug. 7.—Henry Lancaster, the negro for whom officers have been searching every day since July 22, when Chief of Police Wilmoth was shot and killed at Womelsdorf, was today captured about half way between here and Elkins, and was at once brought here to jail.

Nimerod Shiflett and P. C. Furguson found the man on top of a hill in the woods, with his shoes off, sleeping. He surrendered without saying a word or making any trouble.

He had no weapons, and said he had never been armed. He has a bullet wound in his arm. He says he is the man Officer Wilmoth had hold of when he was hit, but that he did not do the shooting.

The negro says the dogs used in the pursuit were close onto him once, and the officers called them back, thinking they were after a rabbit. He was in Elkins Thursday of last week.

THOUSANDS GATHER AT BIER OF TRACY

Outlaw's Guns to Be Distributed Among His Slayers—New Story of Nerve of Convict.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DAVENPORT, WASH., Aug. 7.—The curious are flocking to Davenport from all directions to view the body of Harry Tracy, the dead outlaw. The inquest will not be concluded till tomorrow, as witnesses from Oregon cannot get here today.

The body probably will be taken to Spokane on Saturday and later sent to Salem, Ore., for burial at the penitentiary. Tracy's guns may be distributed among the Creston posse. Other relics have already been given away.

A new story of Tracy's wonderful daring has come to light. Tom McGregor, keeper of a livery stable at Wilbur, on viewing Tracy's body, positively identified him as a man who came to his stable last Friday night. He says Tracy had two horses which he put up for the night. He also left his rifle and a bundle, asking the unsuspecting liveryman to take care of them until morning.

Where he spent the night is not known, though it is said he ate at least one meal in a restaurant in the town. About 10 a. m. Saturday he called for his horses, bundle and rifle, paid his bill and rode away.

NO DIFFERENCES ON BOARD.

Evelyn Baldwin Says All Is Harmonious on North Pole Expedition.

TROMSOE, NORWAY, Aug. 7.—Evelyn B. Baldwin, the arctic explorer, in an interview today characterized the reports of the differences on board the America during the recent Baldwin-Zeigler expedition to the north, as incorrect. He described as out of place and premature any criticisms, at the expiration of only one year of an expedition, the time for which was placed at five years.

Mr. Baldwin said further that he had only taken such measures on board the America as were necessary for the interests of the expedition and that he would pursue his aim to reach the north pole as vigorously as ever.

AGAIN ACCUSES BOOTH.

Myrtle Claybaugh Makes Dying Statement Regarding Shooting.

BROWNSVILLE, PA., Aug. 7.—Myrtle Claybaugh, the young woman who was shot three times early last Sunday morning at a boarding house in Charleroi, while in company with Charles Booth, gave her dying deposition late yesterday in the presence of Chief of Police A. C. Patterson, her father and members of the family.

She stated that Booth shot her, but further than that she refused to talk. Booth is in jail in Washington.

Close Race at Hartford.

HARTFORD, CONN., Aug. 7.—Harry Caldwell of Hartford defeated Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., by a quarter of a lap in a 25-mile motor-paced race at the Velodrome track tonight. Time, 40:28 2-5.

TWO MEN NAMED FOR COMPLICITY IN RIOT MURDER

Saloon Keeper and a Butcher Charged With Killing of Beddall.

OTHERS UNKNOWN ARE ALSO ACCUSED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 7.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Joseph Beddall, who received fatal injuries in the riot here last week, today rendered a verdict holding "Joseph Paluwicz, a butcher; Matthew Paularkas, a one-armed saloonkeeper, and many other rioters unknown to the jury" responsible for the killing.

The men named in the verdict are now locked up. The two men were taken into custody this afternoon by two constables, who were protected by a platoon of soldiers from Company K of the Twelfth regiment.

A large number of witnesses were examined, including the three workmen and Deputy Sheriff Beddall, who were first attacked by the mob, the six policemen who were subsequently set upon and some of them shot, and several eye witnesses of the riot.

Others Are Named.

During the inquest a number of names of persons who, it is alleged, were in the riot and the location of others, whose names are withheld, were furnished the coroner. Joseph Wenczkonis, who was shot in the face, was arrested today on a charge of rioting. Nearly a dozen men are now in custody charged with complicity in the affair.

The situation in this section of the coal field remains unchanged and staff officers at brigade headquarters do not apprehend any trouble in the near future.

The throwing of stones at the troops was repeated early this morning. This time the attack was not made on the camp, but against the provost guards stationed at the Pennsylvania railroad station, in the southern part of town. No arrests were made.

The Rev. Charles Edwards, pastor of the Presbyterian church, said today that young men in his congregation, which is made up principally of mine workers, inform him that foreigners have determined to cut off an ear of every man who returns to work so that they will forever be marked as "unfair workmen."

Strikers Patrol Summit Hill.

TAMAQUA, PA., Aug. 7.—Today about 300 strikers, mostly foreigners, patrolled the streets of Summit Hill and made an effort to force all workmen to return to their homes. Non-union men were compelled to flee for safety. Sheriff Gombert says he is unable to prevent these frequent outbreaks and Gen. Gobin has been advised of the situation.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 7.—President Mitchell, in an interview, today said, with reference to the decision of Judge Goff in the habeas corpus proceedings against the miners in West Virginia:

"The only thing to do now is to make an appeal to President Roosevelt for the pardon of the men in jail, and this will probably be done at once."

THE CORONATION PROSPECTS SEEM VERY BRILLIANT

King's Health Good and Apparently Able to Stand Strain.

MAY TAKE A PART IN LAST REHEARSAL

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

London, Aug. 7.—With the exception of the weather, which continues fitful and showery, the coronation prospects are of the brightest. The demand for seats has increased greatly since the king returned and the hotels are filling up. One sees a great many Americans in the streets, and among the fortunate ones who have been invited to witness the ceremony in the abbey are Gen. Wilson, ex-Attorney General John W. Griggs and Justice Brown of the supreme court.

Reports from Buckingham palace, both official and unofficial, say the king's health is excellent. It is said he may take part in the rehearsal in the abbey tomorrow. There was a partial rehearsal today, at which I was fortunate enough to be present. It consisted principally of drilling the ushers in their work of seating the guests.

The Coronation Thrones.

The two chairs or thrones upon which their majesties will be seated during the greater part of the ceremony are really very fine. The one for the queen has been specially made. They are very big and roomy and are upholstered in ruby velvet, with a small, very tasteful design of the rose, shamrock and thistle. The top of the chairs is surmounted by the royal crown, with the lion and unicorn. Two other chairs nearer the altar, which are placed on the right near the royal box, are upholstered in royal blue velvet, and the prieuxdieux with the same, but the cushions on which their majesties will kneel are covered with thick satin with beautiful golden tassels.

Edward the Confessor's chair is in its place, resting on a priceless Indian carpet. Immediately in front of the altar is a footstool of crimson velvet with white satin cushions. Here their majesties receive the sacrament. On the right hand of the coronation chair, immediately in front of the first row of peers, are three chairs, the middle one being very large and gilded, upholstered in crimson brocaded silk. This is for the prince of Wales. On the smaller chairs, the one on the right is for the duke of Connaught, that on the left, which is very amply cushioned, is for the duke of Cambridge.

Where the Royal Family Will Sit.

In the royal box the members of the royal family sit according to precedence. For instance, the princess of Wales, on a larger chair than any of the others, sits on the extreme right, and next to her will come the Princess Louise, the duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria and Princess Charles of Denmark. Then come the Princess Christian, Princess Louise, the duchess of Argyll, Princess Henry of Battenburg and the grand duchess of Mechlenburg-Strellitz. Last in the row over the royal box is the king's box. Ladies who are seated there will all be provided with crimson and gold chairs. Among those of American birth who have been invited to this box are Mrs. Arthur Paget, Mrs. George Cornwallis-West and Miss Deacon.

It is planned to secure a magnificent light effect at the moment the crown is placed upon the king's head. On six columns which immediately surround the central portion of the abbey where the ceremonial takes place, rows of electric lights have been attached, which will be turned on as the archbishop crowns the sovereign.

Pages to Carry the Canopy.

An alteration has been made with regard to the golden canopy which will be carried over the queen during part of the service. It is now settled that the four standards which support it will be borne by pages, rather big ones, too; but the four duchesses of Portland, Marlborough, Montrose and Sutherland will hold the golden cords and tassels which hang from it, so practically they will be supporting her majesty, as originally intended, without undergoing the fatigue of carrying the canopy, which is far heavier than many people think. The canopy itself is of the very thickest, costliest cloth of gold lined with satin, so it will be quite understood it would be no easy matter for four women to carry it.

King Edward did not drive out today. A large crowd had gathered outside Buckingham palace in expectation of their majesties taking a drive, and the king, who was lunching in one of the front rooms of the building, came to a window in full view of the people, who cheered him enthusiastically.

KING EDWARD THANKS HIS PATIENT PEOPLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The following letter from King Edward to his people was made public tonight:

To My People:

On the eve of my coronation, an event which I look upon as one of the most solemn and important of my life, I am anxious to express to my people at home and in the colonies and in India my heartfelt appreciation of the deep sympathy they have manifested toward me during a time in my life of such imminent danger. The postponement of the coronation ceremony, owing to my illness, has caused, I fear, much inconvenience and trouble to all who intended to celebrate it, but their disappointment has been borne by them with admirable patience and temper.

The prayers of my people for my recovery were heard, and I now offer up my deepest gratitude to Divine Providence for having preserved my life and given me strength to fulfill the important duties which devolve upon me as sovereign of this great empire. EDWARD, R. and I.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY WILL BE PASSED BY THE NEXT CONGRESS

Senator Spooner Quite Confident of It, and Also That Roosevelt Will Be Nominated.

BEETS WILL BE CARED FOR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 7.—"A bill providing for reciprocity with Cuba will be passed at the next session of congress," declared Senator Spooner of Wisconsin to a reporter at the Hotel Touraine here tonight. "The interests of the Cuban republic demand it. I believe that the sentiment of the country is ripe for it. The people are in favor of the arrangements. On that I base my belief that the bill will pass.

"I am confident, moreover, that at the next Republican national convention President Roosevelt will be renominated for his present office, and I am just as confident that he will be elected president of the United States.

"With regard to the Cuban situation, I could talk on it from now until midnight," said Senator Spooner, with a humorous twinkle in his eye; "but I have said all that I have to say about it in my public speeches. From that I form the opinion—my opinion, remember—Cuban reciprocity is quite practicable. I do not see why it should not be carried through congress.

"The beet sugar growing interests will be guarded in the next legislation to be enacted."

GERMANY AND AMERICA.

A Royal Privy Councilor Writes of the Commercial Lessons He Learned in United States.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—L. M. Goldberger, a royal privy councilor of commerce, who recently visited the United States, will end a series of articles on that country in Die Woche on Saturday. This article quotes President Roosevelt in an interview with Herr Goldberger at the White House as saying:

"The economic future belongs to the United States and Germany, and the welfare of both countries lies in intelligent mutual esteem."

Herr Goldberger makes comparisons between Germany and the United States, and says one thing certain is that the sharpest competition will be made by the United States for the world's markets.

"We must unconditionally admit," says the writer, "that in the art of industrial organization, in disciplined co-operation, in the reduction of cost of production, in the utilization of every advantage attainable by mechanical development without regard to cost, we find beyond the Atlantic abundant models."

The writer declares that he found the Americans marvelously, almost uncannily, informed about events and facts concerning international trade production. He advises introduction of the best features of the American trusts.

PURCHASES ORE MINES.

Cambria Steel Company Makes $1,000,000 Deal in Michigan.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 7.—The Cambria Steel Company has bought the Republic iron ore mines in Michigan. This company owns other iron ore mines, both in the Mesaba region and the hard ore region. It is understood that the price paid for the Republic mines was over $1,000,000.

While all the details have not been perfected for turning over the Republic mines to the Cambria, the deal has practically been settled and as soon as arrangements can be made the property will be operated by the new owners.

Picnickers Struck by Train.

PADUCAH, KY., Aug. 7.—A wagonload of 10 picnickers was struck by an Illinois Central freight train at a street crossing just within the city limits tonight, and five were injured, two fatally.

SENATOR HANNA DOES NOT PLAN TO QUIT SENATE

That Little Remark in His Urbana Speech Only a Joke.

HE WILL NOT RESIGN THE CHAIRMANSHIP

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, O., Aug. 7.—Senator Hanna, in his speech at Urbana yesterday, said:

"The only difficulty is that I am afraid the Republicans of Ohio will have to find some other fellow for the senate, because I don't want to go back there. I think I would rather do this kind of work."

He was surprised today when he heard that some of his followers had accepted the statement as gospel. It was merely a little pleasantry, and the senator did not understand how he happened to be taken seriously. Today the senator talked about the much discussed national chairmanship, and he said:

"If the members of the national Republican committee do not want me for chairman of the committee, that is the end of it. If they don't want me for chairman, I can't be chairman any more, for it is their committee. Unless they put me out, I shall remain chairman of the committee. I am chairman of the committee because they made me chairman, and so far as I know the members have not changed their minds about me.

"There is no occasion for the national committee to meet before December, 1903. There is no change in chairmanship contemplated, so far as I know. I am in as good condition for the work of the committee as ever."

"I've got a good appetite, good digestion and a clear conscience," said Maj. Estes Rathbone, after he saw Senator Hanna today. The worry of recent troubles in connection with the Cuban postal service has not worn upon him in the least. He came to Cleveland last evening in connection with some legal matters and to see Senator Hanna, and he left for the east this afternoon, after a long, heart-to-heart chat with the senator.

Naturally enough, Rathbone is delighted with the friendliness exhibited from all parts of the country toward Senator Hanna.

"He'll have to dodge pretty well to escape a presidential nomination," said the major; "but I believe—in fact I am positive he is sincere when he says he is not a candidate for the presidency."

MRS. THAW'S BRILLIANT PARTY.

Dinner in Honor of Miss Davies, Who Is to Wed Archibald G. Thacher.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—The dinner in honor of Miss Davies, who is to marry Archibald G. Thacher, was given by Mrs. Benjamin Thaw of Pittsburgh at her charming villa, Beach Mound. The function was also partly in honor of Mrs. Craig Biddle of Philadelphia.

The floral decorations of Japanese lilies and lily of the valley were arranged in silver with graceful garlanding. In the drawing room and the music room were vases of American Beauty roses, while the flowers for the reception room and library were chiefly of pink. The hall was resplendent with scarlet flowers, which harmonized with the permanent decorations and tapestries.

During the dinner and afterward music was furnished by the Hungarian band, stationed on the piazza just off the dining room. Pretty illuminations were seen in the lawns, and altogether it was a successful and enjoyable entertainment.

P. C. KNOX ASSAULTED IN A HOTEL

Assailed by Three Men, Two of Whom Are Multi-Millionaires.

FIGHT ON TRUSTS ALLEGED MOTIVE

Attorney General's Little Dinner Party at Atlantic City Interrupted.

WAITERS OVERPOWER THE BELLIGERENTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The North American will print tomorrow morning the following special from Atlantic City:

"Attorney General Knox was the victim of an attack here late last night in the cafe of an aristocratic hotel. The cause of the assault upon Mr. Knox was his attitude against the trusts. His assailants were Charles T. Schoen, the multi-millionaire of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; Theodore Cramp, the Philadelphia shipbuilder, and a Mr. Stevenson, also known in Philadelphia.

"Attorney General Knox was knocked out in the argument—not figureately, but literally. He was attacked by three men, and superior numbers defeated him. Theodore Cramp is the man who delivered the blow that landed squarely upon the cabinet member's solar plexus. It was a right-hander, that sent the attorney general spinning backward.

"The time was 11:30 o'clock last night. In the cafe annex, a rustic little nook adjoining the cafe of the garden, was a table of eight covers, all of which were occupied. The central figure at this table was Attorney General Knox. Seated with him were three other men and four women. They were enjoying a quiet dinner after a day of amusement.

The Second Party Enters.

"Mr. Knox and his party were well along with their repast when a carriage drove up to the hotel. Three men alighted, one with no little difficulty, for it was quite apparent that he had been drinking. Charles T. Schoen and Theodore Cramp were two members of this party. The third was a Mr. Stevenson, who is well known in Philadelphia.

"The three men made their way into the cafe annex and took seats at a small table under a mellow, incandescent light. Their table was about 10 feet distant from that occupied by Attorney General Knox and his friends. One member of the party ordered a bottle of wine.

"Mr. Schoen, Mr. Cramp and Mr. Stevenson at once began a rather lively conversation, apparently oblivious of the fact that at a nearby table were several women. They took no pains to modulate their voices, nor were they over-zealous in the choice of their words. At that time they appeared to be ignorant of the fact that a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet and a party of his friends were seated at an adjoining table.

"Presently the head waiter in the cafe leaned over the table at which Mr. Schoen, Mr. Cramp and Mr. Stevenson were seated. He requested them to moderate their voices and refrain from using objectionable language. He said the party at the next table objected to their immoderate conduct.

Two Apologies Made.

"Thereupon the three men joined in an apology and for the first time they took cognizance of the presence of Attorney General Knox and his party. But only a few minutes had elapsed when Mr. Schoen, Mr. Cramp and Mr. Stevenson resumed their animated conversation. The quality of it showed no improvement.

"Again came a quiet appeal from the waiter that they should not ignore the presence of ladies in the cafe annex. Again an apology was sent to the party at Attorney General Knox's table, and for a few minutes the loud talk was suppressed. But soon it broke out afresh. It grew more and more sultry and, according to several witnesses, Mr. Schoen began to make disparaging references to Mr. Knox. It was said that it was based on the attorney general's hostile attitude toward trusts. He didn't relish the attorney general's steps in the direction of their dissolution, and said so.

"Just who struck the first blow cannot be said positively, but certain it is that even while Mr. Knox was making a protest to Mr. Schoen against his intemperate language he was being called names that startled everyone within hearing. In the midst of the riot of words a blow was struck. It came from Mr. Cramp and landed fairly upon the belt of the attorney general, who found himself opposed to three men, all much larger and heavier than he. The blow staggered him back against the wall.

Waiters to the Rescue.

"At that moment half a dozen waiters rushed up. The head waiter seized Mr. Cramp from behind, pinioning his arms. Another grappled with Mr. Stevenson and dragged him out of the struggle. Others took hold of Mr. Schoen. Mr. Knox was speedily surrounded by his friends and they quietly retired from the cafe and were driven away to their hotel. The blow the attorney general received from Mr. Cramp had stunned him for a moment, but he quickly recovered.

"The noise and confusion had attracted more than a score of hotel guests to the scene. They crowded into the cafe, where Mr. Schoen, Mr. Cramp and Mr. Stevenson still remained. The waiters had drawn a cordon around the table. They ordered more wine, but were politely informed that no more would be served to them."

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Attorney General and Mrs. Knox were registered at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight. He had retired when a note was sent to his room asking about the report and he was not disturbed by the messenger.

NEW BIJOU WAS INSPECTED BY MANY FRIENDS

Largest Theater in the Country Is Now in Greater Pittsburgh.

MANY CHANGES ARE MADE

Messrs. Gulick and McNulty Were Last Night Recipients of Compliments on Enterprise and Good Taste—History of Old Play House.

The new Bijou theater, now one of the largest in the country, was thrown open last evening for an inspection by members of the press and friends of the management. Several hundred availed themselves of the opportunity to view the handsome place of amusement. It is a most decided addition to Pittsburgh's theaters, one reflecting much credit on the enterprise and good taste of those controlling the Bijou, and an improvement that will be appreciated by thousands of the pleasure-loving people of this great community. It is a greater theater well in keeping with Greater Pittsburgh. Manager R. M. Gulick and his partner, P. J. McNulty, were fully entitled to all the warm compliments paid them last evening.

Is Now a Ground Floor Theater.

The plans of the remodeled Bijou, making it a ground-floor theater, were prepared some two years ago, by Architect William Kaufman, under the personal direction of the late H. M. Bennett, at that time the owner of the property and senior member of the firm of R. M. Gulick & Co. The new theater has been contemplated for several years, but owing to the erection of the Bennett office building, the work was not commenced until this spring.

The first floor of the new theater is almost on a level with the street. In addition to the large seating capacity on that floor, there is a dress circle, a balcony and a gallery, with eight boxes on each side of the stage, making the total seating capacity 3,758, the largest of any theater in the country playing combinations and giving regular performances.

The 16 boxes seat 110; the first floor, or parquet, 920; the dress circle, or first balcony, 760; the second balcony, 679, and the benches in the gallery have room for 1,150. In addition to this, there are 100 extra stools, and when the orchestra is taken out, the space it usually occupies can be provided with 30 other seats, making the total capacity of the house, as has been stated, 3,768 seats. The standing room will probably admit of at least 1,000 additional.

Three Entrances and Many Exits.

There are two main entrances, which will be used for every performance. One will be in Sixth street, as formerly, and one in Penn avenue, which is also the entrance to the Bijou office building. These entrances are 20 feet wide and the lobbies are 80 feet deep. There is a box office in each lobby, where tickets to all parts of the house will be sold. The Sixth street box office will be the only one open during the entire day. On the right side of the Penn avenue entrance, midway between the entrance doors and the theater proper, and directly in the rear of the box office there are large and comfortable offices for the manager and treasurer. An ornamental iron and slate stairway 10 feet wide, built in solid masonry, leads from this lobby to the upper floors.

The box office in the Sixth street entrance is located as formerly, and the gallery entrance remains in the Alley side, opposite the gallery entrance to the Alvin theater, and the iron and slate stairways, inclosed in fireproof walls of masonry, are eight feet wide. Iron and slate stairways 4½ feet wide, lead from the ground floor to the dress circle and to the balcony. The exits are wide and numerous. On the ground floor a series of doors are so arranged that nearly the whole left side of the house can be thrown open to the alley sidewalk, as a means of exit.

Many Conveniences Provided.

On the right, after entering the theater on the Penn avenue side, there is a large and convenient toilet room and a handsome parlor for women; a smoking and toilet room for men is also on this floor. In the dress circle and balcony, toilet rooms and parlors are also provided

R. M. GULICK,
The clever manager of the Bijou, one of best money-makers in the country and now the largest theater in the United States.

for women, as on the first floor. There is also a toilet room on the gallery floor. The aisles are wide and the rows of seats are placed with a view of making every one in the audience comfortable.

The eight boxes, on either side of the proscenium arch, are arranged in four tiers of two each, and are hung from the roof, so that there are no posts nor obstructions whatever to the sight. The dress circle, balcony and gallery are provided with ample exits on both sides, in addition to the main entrance.

A new feature on the ground floor is the location of three private boxes for the management. They are suspended from the dress circles in the Penn avenue side, and are entered by means of a private stairway from the box office. The dress circle is provided with new patent revolving seats, which have the advantage of permitting the audience to go out without crowding the other occupants of the same row.

Decorations Bright and Warm.

The lobbies are bright and attractive, and the floors are all of tile. The carpets are red Wilton velvet brussels. The decorations are most striking in contrast to the old, cold colors formerly used. The new colors are strong, and rich, and pleasingly blended. The general scheme is red and rich yellow, blended in ivory, and touched up with gold. The picture over the proscenium arch, representing playing and dancing Romans, is carried out in harmony with the rest of the decorations. The decorating was done under the supervision of J. Rischke.

Provision is made for exhausting the impure air for the entire house, and especially from underneath the balconies. A complete electric plant is located in the basement and electric lighting is one of the principal features of the general decorations, several thousand lamps being required to complete the scheme.

In providing for the comfort of the audience in the front of the house, the stage and the comfort of the players has not been forgotten. The stage is 77 feet wide; 80 feet to the gridiron; 53 feet between the fly galleries; 30 feet from stage to fly galleries and the proscenium opening is 36 feet wide and 34 feet high. The dressing-rooms are fireproof and are large and furnished with hot and cold water, steam heat, etc. The star dressing-rooms are in the rear of the boxes.

The work of construction, which was completed in a remarkably short time, was done by S. J. Little, contractor.

History of the Old Play House.

The Bijou theater was originally built for a concert and lecture hall, with an art gallery annex, by the Pittsburgh Library association, when they erected the library building, now the Bijou office building, in 1869-1870, and was dedicated, or opened, in 1870, with a great concert by local talent.

For about four years the Bijou theater was conducted only for the purposes originally intended, owing to the religious principles of a majority of the board of directors, but about 1874, a change was made in the policy of the board of management and in 1877 the house was leased to Managers Elsler & Canning, and they had it for two years. In 1879 Capt. W. W. Fullwood obtained the lease, and in 1880, Fred W. Parke took charge of the house. Parke had the control for five years. Elsler & Canning changed the house for theatrical combinations and opera companies, and from being a lecture hall where John B. Gough and other men of that class held forth, it became a theatrical playhouse.

Emily Soldene and her burlesque company of English blondes was one of the first attractions, in 1874, and Lydia Thompson and her noted company of beauties followed quickly. Then Jane Coombs, a famous society actress of those days, was an annual attraction, and many other noted actresses and opera singers, including Parepa Rosa, the Boston Ideals, Caroline Richings Bernard and others followed her and drew immense audiences to the house, which was then the most fashionable theater in the city.

Noted Society Events Took Place.

Library hall, as it was then known, was also frequently leased for amateur performances and entertainments, the great Martha Washington tea party of 1875, which was given by the most fashionable people in the city, and also the celebrated first presentation of "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works Show" by the same social circle having been given there.

The famous "Troubadours," a minstrel organization which included some of the most prominent business men of the city, gave some performances for charity in old Library hall, also the Tuesday Night club, and the "Trouvers," a musical society under the management of Prof. Thomas F. Kirk, Sr., in 1877. Peter J. McNulty, one of the present lessees, appearing with the combination.

The place was opened as the Bijou theater by R. M. Gulick and William Challet on September 6, 1886, the first performance being given by Mrs. D. P. Bowers, "Lady Audley's Secret," and from that time until the present the theater has been one of the phenomenal successes of the theatrical world and has been known throughout the theatrical profession as "the great and only."

Great Record as a Money-Maker.

On March 16, 1887, the late H. M. Bennett purchased the interest of William Challet, and on April 1 Peter J. McNulty succeeded him and the firm is now the equal partnership of Messrs. Gulick and McNulty. This is the seventeenth season of the Bijou theater and there is no theater in the United States which has the record of being a greater money-maker or of attracting larger audiences.

The public may obtain some idea of the importance and size of the Bijou by noting the comparison of the seating capacity of the largest theaters in the country as taken from the published statement in Cahn's theatrical guide, the recognized authority in the profession: Bijou, Pittsburgh, 3,758; Auditorium, Chicago, 4,200; Boston theater, 5,127; Gilmore's Auditorium, Philadelphia, 3,078; Grand Opera house, New York, 2,653; Grand Opera house, Boston, 2,600; National theater, Philadelphia, 2,415; People's theater, Philadelphia, 2,800, Alhambra, Chicago, 2,500; Academy of Music, Chicago, 2,450; Grand Opera house, Washington, D. C., 2,885; New Star, New York, 3,200; Academy of Music, New York, 2,110; Ford's, Baltimore, 2,250; old Bijou, Pittsburgh, 3,017; Duquesne, Pittsburgh, 1,975; Grand, Pittsburgh, 2,752; Avenue, Pittsburgh, 1,700.

Saturday evening the theater will be open for the public's inspection. The opening attraction of the season is William H. West's minstrels jubilee, which begins its engagement next Monday.

"WHEN ROGER AND WILLY MET IN BONNY'S OFFICE."

The air was bright and sunny outside yesterday afternoon, but in the Allegheny county court house there was the brooding calm that comes before the storm. The atmosphere was charged with electricity that drew spectators to the storm center. Over one book in the office of Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst Senator William Flinn stood idly. At another book was Roger O'Mara, former chief of detectives.

With studious politeness the two men greeted one another and after going through the usual courteous preliminaries Roger gently inquired of William why the latter always carried a 20-ton steam hammer for use on Roger. William "ducked" the question by saying, "Nay, nay, Roger; rather why doest thou forever be using a 13-inch gun on me?"

The conversation that ensued was punctuated with the lightning of wit and sarcasm, and the crowd that had reserved seats, now numbering about 50, enjoyed the set-to enthusiastically and applauded the marksmen with gusto, but kept their appreciation within bounds that would not interrupt the bout.

The senator softly addressed his opponent somewhat after this fashion: "Roger, doest remember that interview in which you soundly berated me? Why didst thou so abuse thy old friend?"

And Roger answered thus: "William, I did not approve of thy political methods."

"Yet thou wert ever an apt pupil," spake William.

With determination written on his countenance von Bonnhorst rushed into the breach, but the lightning bolts of sarcasm that had previously passed between the belligerents were turned on him, and the crowd again chuckled with appreciation, as "Big Roger" retired with the honors of war.

WITNESSED AN INVASION.

Czar and Kaiser Watch Maneuvers and Exchange Presents.

REVAL, Aug. 7.—This afternoon Emperor William and the czar witnessed the operation of landing a force on the island of Carboe. This maneuver ended with the entire force marching past the sovereigns, who had followed the operations by boat and on foot ashore. Upon leaving the island their majesties responded heartily to the cheers of the crews of the warships.

During the day the czar and the emperor exchanged aiguillettes as a token of friendship. Emperor William conferred the order of the Black Eagle upon Count Lamsdorff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, and Baron von Frederickcz, aide-de-camp to the czar and minister of the imperial house.

WAS A BIG BLAZE, BUT LOSS IS LIGHT

TWO ALARMS FOR FIRE IN LAWRENCEVILLE THIS MORNING.

Works of Berger Box Manufacturing Co. Destroyed and Surrounding Works Were Scorched—Street Cars Blocked by Fire Hose Giving Out.

A large story and a half frame building between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, below Penn avenue, formerly occupied by the Berger Box Manufacturing Company, was totally destroyed by fire, this morning. Shortly after 12 o'clock Stephen Pewnicki, watchman for the Pittsburgh Manufacturing Company, whose bolt factory adjoins the box factory on the Twenty-eighth street side, saw a fire in the box factory. It had then gained considerable headway. He turned in an alarm from box 133 at once.

When the firemen reached the place the building was practically gone. It was 125x175 feet, built of wood. A second district was called out but the firemen could do little except save adjoining property. The frailness of the factory was of the greatest assistance as it collapsed in a short time. After that it was only a question of quenching the fire in the ruins.

The pattern and machine shops of the Lower Union mills of the Carnegie Steel Company and the Pittsburgh Bolt and Nut plant are on the eastern side of the box factory, facing Twenty-ninth street, and the works of the Pittsburgh Manufacturing Company are on the western side, facing Twenty-eighth street. Both were scorched a little but the loss will be trifling.

The Berger company vacated the box factory about three months ago. Some machinery had been left in it and there was some lumber stored there. The loss is estimated at $8,000.

On the way to the fire one of the hose carriage horses of No. 3 company, gave out and fell at Twenty-sixth street and Penn avenue. No one was hurt, but the company was delayed and the street cars blocked for a time.

SANTA FE STARTS WAR.

Cuts Live Stock Rates from Kansas City to Chicago Nearly Half.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. — The western freight rate situation developed into a state of open war today, when the Santa Fe gave notice that beginning next Monday it would carry live stock between Chicago and Kansas City for 12 cents per 100 pounds.

This is a cut of 11½ cents, and is the lowest rate given on live stock since 1895, when there was a situation similar to the one now existing and when the live stock rate between the river and Chicago went to 10 cents.

First Real Blow Struck.

Because of kicks against the Chartiers Water Company's ineffective service, the council of East Homestead refused to grant the company a franchise to lay pipes in the borough. The ordinance was up for final passage. Some time ago the borough of Homestead sold its pipes in West Homestead to the Chartiers Water Company, subject to the franchise it was expected would be passed last night, and which would have been passed if it were not for the agitation of the past few weeks in every borough that is supplied by the Chartiers company.

SIXTEEN DEAD, MANY MISSING IN COAL MINE

Frightful Effect of an Explosion of Gas in Colorado.

MOST VICTIMS MARRIED

They Are Americans and Irish Mainly, but Few of Other Nationalities Being Employed — Four Bodies Recovered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Trinidad, Col., Aug. 7.—Sixteen men are known to have been killed and some others are reported missing as the result of an explosion of gas in one of the mines of the Union Coal and Coke Company at Bowen, six miles from Trinidad, at 7 o'clock tonight.

The work of rescuing the bodies was begun at once, and four had been taken out at 10 o'clock. No names are obtainable at this time.

The mine employs about 60 men. They are all Americans and Irish, no Mexicans or Italians being employed. Most of the dead are said to be married. Only meager details have been received here.

NOT S. P. LANGDON'S SON.

Youth Claiming Such Parentage Has Been Cutting Wide Swath in and Near Pittsburgh.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Samuel P. Langdon, who is interested in coal mining and railroad operations in Western Pennsylvania, told a correspondent of The Gazette this afternoon that John H. Langdon, under arrest in New York, charged with the theft of the yacht Pelican, is not his son, and that he knows nothing about him. Langdon says he has no son.

A young man, variously known as James H. Langdon and J. Hartrey Langdon, who has often represented himself as a son of Samuel P. Langdon, has given the police of Philadelphia, Boston and other cities considerable trouble in the last 10 years. According to police records James H. Langdon, 17 years old, was arrested here April 26, 1892, on a charge of defrauding John Wanamaker by purchasing goods on bogus orders. In September, 1895, James H. Langdon was arrested at Saltsburg, Pa., on the charge of passing forged checks in that place, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Latrobe.

A few years later J. C. Langdon, claiming to be a son of S. P. Langdon, was taken into custody in Norfolk, Va., at the request of the police authorities of Raleigh, N. C., charged with passing worthless checks. At that time he had been living like a prince at some of the leading hotels in Florida.

J. Hartrey Langdon, in the uniform of an ensign of the United States navy, appeared in Boston several years ago and was entertained at the Somerset and Algonquin clubs. After his departure the Boston police were informed that a draft for $200 Langdon gave a prominent business man of that city had proved to be worthless and a tailor who had furnished the ensign's uniform was out $150.

ALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED.

Charged With Writing the Wrong Name on Pittsburgh Bank Check.

BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Inspectors of the Boston bank squad arrested here today Paul Brigham, alias Bailey L. Jameson; Adam Keith and several other names, who is wanted badly in Pittsburgh on a charge of forging the name of Adam Keith to checks of the Merchants National bank to the amount of $2,500. He has been held in $2,000 bail until Monday, when it is expected the Pittsburgh officers will arrive to take him back to Pittsburgh.

The police of this city have been looking for him for some time past, and got on his track when he very nearly swindled S. L. Holt & Co. out of $2,500. The prisoner, it is alleged, was associated with Ada Worth, the notorious crook, at different times.

FUSION NOMINEES MEET DEMOCRATS

RECEPTION AT THE JACKSONIAN CLUB IN ALLEGHENY.

Enjoyable Time in the First Legislative District—Speeches by Four of the Candidates—Conference by Braddock Hebrews Next Sunday Evening.

The Jacksonian club of Allegheny gave a reception last night to the candidates on the fusion county and legislative tickets. The club rooms in Nelson street were crowded with the workers of the district, the First legislative. The candidates, who were there in force, shook hands with the workers, refreshments were served, and speeches were made. The fact that all but one of the candidates were Republicans made no difference to the Democrats of the Jacksonian club, for the Republicans were on the fusion ticket and therefore worthy of support. The occasion was highly enjoyable, and the meeting was enthusiastic.

Robert Beck, chairman of the First legislative district Democratic committee, was the master of ceremonies. In the entertainment of the candidates and workers he was assisted by Charles J. Seidenstricker, vice president of the club; John Lofink, secretary of the legislative district committee, and, in fact, by all the members of the club.

Among the candidates present and who made speeches were Joseph Stewart and J. J. Gilchrist, candidates for the legislature from the First district; John M. Goehring, candidate for senator from the Forty-second district, and J. Denny O'Neil, candidate for county recorder. W. T. Bradberry also made a speech.

Many Hebrews from Western Pennsylvania are expected in Braddock next Sunday to attend a meeting in the Eleventh street hall, called by the Young Men's Hebrew club, to consider the coming election and the various candidates. Several hundred Hebrews are expected as individuals and representatives of various organizations. The merits of each candidate will be discussed and a decision reached as to who will be indorsed and voted for.

BARBAROUS, SAYS BRYAN.

He Thinks President Roosevelt Is Too Much an Admirer of the Strenuous Life.

LINCOLN, NEB., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—W. J. Bryan accuses President Roosevelt of going beyond the limit in advocacy of a strenuous life, and calls him to task for his utterances in his speech at West Point. In the Commoner tomorrow, Mr. Bryan will say:

"President Roosevelt in his recent extemporaneous speech at West Point gave expression to a sentiment which suggests an inherent barbarism, that will have to be taken into account in weighing his purposes and in predicting his future course. His address on "The Strenuous Life," delivered some three years ago, showed that he gave to virtue the ancient, rather than the modern definition, and placed physical courage above mental greatness and moral worth. But when in his West Point speech he laid aside all restraint and in a fit of animal enthusiasm, said 'A good soldier must not only be willing to fight, he must be anxious to fight. I do not want anything to do with him if he is not'— when said this he turned a light upon his inner self and revealed a moral deformity which must shock such of his friends who are not wholly carried away with the bloody and brutal gospel of imperialism. If a good soldier must be anxious to fight, then it morally follows that an admiration which desires to develop good soldiers should surround cadets with influences calculated to infuse into them a fighting spirit, an eagerness for blood-letting."

NET IS CLOSING ABOUT SLAYER OF ACHSAH KING

Joseph Allen Identified by Four Persons as Her Companion.

CHARGE OF MURDER MADE

Supt. of Detectives Philip Demmel Swears to Information and Coroner McGeary Issues a Commitment.

The noose is tightening around the neck of Joseph Allen, arrested for the murder of Achsah King. He was yesterday identified by four persons who saw him with the King woman on the day of the crime, and information, charging murder, was made against him by Supt. of Detectives Philip Demmel before Magistrate McKenna, at Central station.

It was a trying day for the suspect, and four separate times he was brought face to face with persons who said that he was the companion of the murdered woman on July 23. Not once did he falter, but looked into the faces of his accusers with the sullen, defiant air that has characterized him ever since his arrest.

During the afternoon he was photographed and at 6 o'clock the commitment charging him with murder was made out by Coroner Jesse McGeary and he will be removed to the jail this evening. On Tuesday the coroner's inquest will be held and the police are certain that he will be held for the crime.

Corroborative Evidence.

It has not been a very difficult matter to gather evidence corroborating the story told by Levi Allen, brother of the accused, to whom he is alleged to have confessed his deed. Much of the necessary testimony was gathered yesterday. Early in the day several witnesses were summoned by Detectives John Roach and William Bradley to go to Central station and attempt to identify the prisoner.

In the morning Harry O'Donnell, a waiter in Nill & Knee's saloon, No. 523 Wylie avenue, who had occasion to eject both the King woman and her companion from the saloon at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of July 23, went to the police station and positively identified Allen as the man he put out of the place on that day.

Mrs. A. K. Acheson of No. 3819 Butler street went to the police station yesterday afternoon and identified Allen as the man who was with her sister at her house at 3 o'clock on the afternoon she was murdered.

Four Times Identified.

Allen was also identified by a man who saw him and Achsah King enter the saloon where she was murdered. This man saw the two stand at the corner of Sixth and Wylie avenues before she entered the place. He says they quarreled and that the woman evidently wanted to break away from Allen. He caught hold of her roughly and said: "No, I want you to stay with me now."

Allen was also recognized by another witness who saw him and Achsah King staggering along Wylie avenue, near Curran's saloon, at about 5 o'clock, a few minutes prior to the hour when she was murdered.

This morning Conductor A. S. Johnson, No. 1631, of the Butler street line, will go to Central police station to identify Allen as the man who with the King woman boarded his car at Thirty-eighth and Butler streets and rode with him to Cecil alley and Liberty street. Allen and the woman fell asleep on the route and Conductor Johnson was compelled to awaken them at Cecil alley.

Detective Roach found another witness yesterday who saw the couple leave the car, and still another witness who rode with them while they were asleep and laughed at them with the other passengers.

Witnesses to Be Called.

William Lytle, a waiter at Nill & Knee's saloon at No. 523 Wylie avenue, will also attempt to identify Allen as the man who was in the saloon with Achsah King at noon. The porters at Curran's saloon will also be summoned.

Last of all the police will call in the only eye witness of the murder to look at Allen and say whether or not he is the man who cut Achsah King's throat in her presence.

Allen was apparently unconcerned when he was called to stand in front of his cell to be identified. His face was imperturbable. No signs of uneasiness were noticeable. According to Mrs. Acheson Allen has a heavier growth of beard on his face than when he was at her house.

SMOKE AND ORE DUST ARE KILLING ALL TREES

Superintendent William Falconer Tells Botanists of Certain Fate of Pittsburgh's Vegetation.

"The trees of Pittsburgh and vicinity are gradually being killed by the smoke and dust from the furnaces," was the statement made by Superintendent William Falconer of Schenley park at the regular monthly meeting of the Botanical society of Western Pennsylvania last evening at Carnegie Institute. "Wherever the furnace comes the trees must go, and downtown trees are gradually dying. In East Liberty, where they are freer from the smoke and dust, they may live, but not elsewhere."

Although the attendance was small at this meeting the interest was great. A movement was started toward inaugurating a series of articles for use in newspapers throughout Western Pennsylvania on the cultivation of wild cherry, walnut and locust trees for both artistic and financial returns. The price of timber makes this one of the most profitable undertakings on rough land, it was stated. J. E. Shafer, curator of the botanical museum of the institute, reported on the recent meeting of the American Society of Botanists in this city, in connection with the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. T. D. Davis, vice president of the society, presided, in the absence of the president.

VERDICT IS NOT GUILTY.

New Kensington Borough Officials Are Acquitted by Justice Glass.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—"Not guilty," was the decision of Justice of the Peace Glass of Parnassus tonight in the case of Councilmen William H. Richards, Joseph B. Hiester, Burgess R. E. Henderson, former Councilman Thomas Bullock, and Frank W. Zillmer, and W. D. Snyder, former clerk of councils, charged by Arthur Eardman, a former policeman, with misdemeanor in increasing the indebtedness of the borough of New Kensington to a greater amount than the legal limit of 7 per cent of the total property valuation.

The alleged increase occurred in the summer of 1900, when time warrants were issued in payment for the street paving.

ROOSEVELT TO BE DOCTOR OF LAWS

SPECIAL CONVENTION TO CONFER THE HONOR UPON HIM.

It Is a University of Chicago Scheme. The President Returns to Oyster Bay and Entertains Many Distinguished Statesmen at Luncheon.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—President Roosevelt will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Chicago on October 3. A special convention has been called solely for conferring the distinction on the president.

President McKinley was the only president previously honored by the university in this way.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 7.—After his return with Mrs. Roosevelt from their cruise, the president had a number of guests at luncheon. Senator Platt of Connecticut, Mr. Phelps, secretary to the governor of Connecticut, and Charles H. Clark of the Hartford Courant, came to talk over the political situation in their state with the president. One of the principal objects of the call was to complete arrangements with the president for his visit to Connecticut on the occasion of his trip through the New England states.

Representative Jesse Overstreet of Indiana, one of the members of the congressional campaign committee, discussed with the president the political situation generally, so far as it relates to the congressional elections in the fall. He talked to the president, too, regarding Mr. Roosevelt's proposed visit to Indiana in September.

Senator Stewart of Nevada discussed briefly with the president some western matters in which he is interested.

Mr. Stewart is intensely interested in the irrigation provision made in the law enacted at the recent session of congress. He was one of the original advocates of the plan to irrigate the arid lands of the west and has made a careful study of the project. He discussed the matter at some length with Mr. Roosevelt.

Others present were Gen. James S. Clarkson of Iowa and Representatives James S. Sherman and Lucien N. Littauer of New York.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS FOR M'KEES ROCKS

If Certain Streets Are Vacated P., C. & Y. Railroad Will Build Freight Dock on the River.

A meeting was held last night between a committee of McKees Rocks council and the officials of the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad to talk over the vacation of several of the borough streets. Superintendent J. B. Stafford stated that it was the intention of the railroad company to make several hundred thousand dollars worth of improvements on the road, but nothing could be done until some favorable action was taken by the council. The railroad company wants to change the position of Shingiss street and vacate several short streets that are never used. In return for this it agrees to give the borough enough ground to recompense it for all it takes.

The P., C. & Y. is now used jointly by the Panhandle and the Lake Erie railroads and is a very important coal road. The company has just completed a $25,000 freight station at McKees Rocks and is building another at Carnegie.

Mr. Stafford stated last night that if the concessions are granted the company will build a large dock at McKees Rocks where coal, iron, lumber and other freight can be transferred from barges to the cars.

The railroad now owns about 1,200 feet of river frontage, which it will use for that purpose. It also proposes to enlarge its yards at this point, and make many other improvements. The councilmanic committee seemed satisfied with the terms offered and the question will be brought up at the next council meeting.

IRISHMEN WILL RIDE.

Ancient Order of Hiberians Holds a Big Steamer Excursion on Sunday.

The Irish-Americans of Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Braddock, Homestead and McKeesport will attend a boat excursion on the steamer Beauty, on Sunday, at which the women members of the order will present Division No. 4, A. O. H., under whose auspices the excursion will be held, with an American and an Irish flag.

Attorney James Francis Burke will make the presentation speech and Cornelius Horgan, president of the division, will accept the flags on behalf of his division. The Cathedral orchestra has been engaged to furnish American and Irish airs, and an excellent program of specialty performers, headed by Prof. E. J. Carney, who will recite "Emmett's Speech in the Dock," and "Shamus O'Brien." For the amusement of old timers Johnny O'Brien will play Irish airs on the flute.

The steamer will leave the wharf at the foot of Market street at 1 o'clock and go up the Monongahela river as far as Monongahela City, where a banquet will be served to the guests, with Thomas L. Dillon toastmaster. All intoxicants are barred for the day.

President Horgan, who has been identified with the order since 1886, holding state, county and national offices for many years, has been elected to the state convention to be held at Wilkesbarre on the third Tuesday of August, and which will probably be the largest state convention in the history of the order.

PENNSY BREAKS RECORD.

Carries Less Anthracite Coal Than for Many Years, but More Bituminous.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 7.—The Pennsylvania railroad for the week ending August 2 carried only 920 tons of anthracite coal. This is the smallest tonnage of hard coal that ever has moved for many years. For the same week in 1901 the tonnage of anthracite amounted to 98,439 tons.

The shipments of bituminous coal continue to show a steady increase. Last week the company carried 587,035 tons against 385,747 tons last year.

Accepts Union's Terms.

ROCHESTER, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—At a meeting held at Rochester this afternoon between the officers of the Rochester Glass Company and a committee representing local Union No. 25, A. F. G. W. U., an agreement was reached whereby the Rochester Glass Company agreed to the demands of the union, in the abolishment of what is called Sunday night work, and an increase in the wage scale.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS WOMAN FOR MURDER

Susan Havey Suspected of Killing Her Father-in-Law.

HIT HIM WITH BUCKET

Braddock Tragedy Partly Cleared Away by Witnesses Who Heard Susan Havey Threaten and Abuse the Old Man at Her Home.

Thomas Havey of Braddock, who died suddenly on July 20, is believed to have been murdered. Yesterday the coroner's jury returned a verdict to that effect, recommending that Mrs. Susan Havey, a daughter-in-law of the dead man, be held on a charge of murder to await the action of the grand jury. From the evidence presented to the jury it is believed that she inflicted the injuries that caused the man's death.

Havey was not on good terms with his son James' family. He was addicted to drinking and often quarreled with Susan Havey, the wife of James. The old man was drinking the day before the injuries which resulted in his death were sustained, and on the day he was injured, July 14, is said to have had violent altercations with members of the family.

According to the evidence, the old man went to the stable of J. A. Russell on July 14, for a piece of iron to be used as a weight to keep a gate closed. It was while he was away from the house on this errand that he was injured. He was found at the gate in an unconscious state. He was taken into the house and a physician summoned. Havey showed signs of having been beaten about the head and his collarbone was broken.

When he regained consciousness he refused to tell the physicians or his daughter, Mrs. Mary Burke, who inflicted the blows on him. Mrs. Susan Havey said at the time that he had been attacked by a number of negroes. This story was denied by a number of neighbors who said that his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Havey, had struck him on the head with a bucket and knocked him down. The most damaging evidence was given by Dr. Anna Watt, who testified that she heard James Havey accuse his wife of having abused his father and making threats against him.

She also heard Mrs. Havey say "she hoped to God they would find the old man stiff in the morning."

The jury was out a half hour on the case and returned a verdict holding Mrs. Havey for the grand jury. There were several children of the accused woman at the inquest and when they were separated from their mother she broke down and cried.

Yesterday afternoon she was held as a prisoner in the coroner's private office and was later released on a bond of $3,000, which was secured by her husband.

James Havey says that his wife is innocent of the charge.

TEACHERS' TOUR IS CONDUCTED BY AN EXPERT

Nothing That Adds to Their Comfort Is Missed by Herr George Schinko.

ALL ARE WELL PLEASED

Declares He Never Had More Delightful Party Under His Care. Is Knight of Three Countries. Speaks All Languages.

By L. W. STRAYER,
Staff Correspondent.
(Special Correspondence to The Gazette.)

Heidelberg, Germany, July 27.—"Personally conducted" through Europe may be a term to recall pleasant memories to some and harrowing experiences to others. All depends upon the conductor. If he possesses the necessary qualifications he will make the tour one to be remembered for life. If he doesn't—well, his road is a rocky one.

The teachers who are touring Europe as the guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph, are especially fortunate in this respect. Their conductor is George Schinko, who was employed for this tour by Thomas Cook & Son, who have general charge of the arrangements. Mr. Schinko could consistently request us to address him as Sir George if he cared to, for he has been knighted by three countries. But he is a modest man, and to our party he is content to be plain Mr. Schinko, or Herr Schinko, or Monsieur Schinko, according to where we are.

Mr. Schinko's titles are Knight of the Order of Merit, conferred on him by Austria; Knight of the Order of Dainlo, conferred by Russia, and Knight of the Order of Merit, conferred by Belgium. Besides these decorations, he has the gold medal with crown of Servia, silver medal of defense of Tirol, 1868; Austrian war medal, and Austrian jubilee medal. He does not wear these decorations every day, but dresses as an ordinary European, his attire in the accompanying picture being his native uniform.

All Tongues Alike to Him.

Mr. Schinko's home is in Salzburg, Austria, and he served in the Austrian army against Italy in 1866. He has been traveling since 1873, and he speaks fluently almost every European language. A few years ago he could speak Turkish like a native, but as he has not visited that country often in later years, he is rather rusty on the Ottoman tongue. For five years he was courier for King Leopold of Belgium, and he has also acted in the same capacity for the royal family of England, the king of Servia, the grand duke of Tuscany, Lord Wolseley, Lord Goshen, the marquis of Lorne, the duke of Argyle, Archduke Frederick of Austria, Archduke Leopold of Austria and many others of royal and noble blood.

If there is anything about European travel that Mr. Schinko does not know he has the faculty of keeping it suppressed. He is an authority on boat and train connections. Proud hotel porters and omnibus drivers know him and take off their hats to him. He knows what is worth while seeing in every town and what is not. He can talk art, politics or the qualities of wine, and convince you of his knowledge on these and other subjects.

The teachers have long since ceased to worry about baggage or train schedules. They know that Mr. Schinko will get them to the station in time and that when they reach their hotel the baggage will not be far behind.

Eye on the Baggage.

"I am one piece of baggage short," the conductor said to me on the Rhine steamer Friday.

"I am carrying my handbag today, though it was checked yesterday," I replied.

"Ah! that makes the count correct," he said.

This was a trifling incident, but it indicated that the conductor knew his business and was attending to it.

Every member of the party is enthusiastic over the hotel accommodations they are receiving. The rooms have been the best in the house and the meals have left no room for complaint anywhere.

And Mr. Schinko is evidently well pleased with his party. He says he is put to less trouble and is asked fewer foolish questions than he ever was before with a party of this size. His fund of experiences is unlimited and he tells many interesting stories of his travels as a conductor, such as being awakened at 2 o'clock in the morning to tell somebody the time, etc. He will remain with our party until we board the ship Columbia at Glasgow homeward bound. We will all part with him with deep regret.

Photographers Elect Officers.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 7.—The Photographers' Association of America today elected the following officers: President, J. George Nussbaumer, Buffalo; first vice president, C. R. Reeves, Anderson, Ind.; second vice president, G. A. Giffen, Wheeling; treasurer, Frank R. Barrows, Boston; secretary, E. E. Leavey, New Castle, Pa. Indianapolis was selected for the next place of meeting.

First Wrote His Will.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Thomas Hadden of Green township, Indiana county, committed suicide in a unique manner. He wrote his will and placed it in his hat. Then he placed the barrel of a rifle in the fork of a tree, and, standing with his breast at the muzzle, used a stick to spring the hammer.

Explosion Kills 14 Spaniards.

SANTANDER, SPAIN, Aug. 7.—An explosion occurred today in iron works at Camargo, near here, destroying five houses, killing 14 persons and injuring many others.

A COLD RAINY DAY IN SCOTCH CAPITAL

By L. W. STRAYER,
Staff Correspondent.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND, Aug. 7.—The teachers traveling under the patronage of The Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph spent this day at sightseeing under disadvantages. There has been rain nearly all day, and the weather is decidedly cool, so that all went about with wraps and umbrellas. We are willing to believe all we have heard about the damp and disagreeable climate of Scotland. As we will be in the lake region tomorrow and more exposed to the weather than in the city, we are sincerely longing for a fair day. The prospect this evening is not bright. Tomorrow will be our final day in the old world, as we will leave the Alyde on the steamship Columbia on Saturday.

We had an interesting day in the old Scotch capital, visiting the ancient castle and other places of historic note. We met the Rev. Dr. Jones A. Kelso of the Western Theological seminary, and Mrs. Kelso, who have been visiting in Scotland. They are booked to return with us on the Columbia. All members of the party continue well.

WEALTHY LAND OWNER HURLED TO HIS DEATH

George W. Canfield, of McKeesport, While Collecting Rents, Was Almost Instantly Killed.

George W. Canfield, one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of McKeesport, was struck by the engine of a local shifter on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad yesterday and killed.

Mr. Canfield had been making his last collection from his tenants in the "Bowery" district, the grounds having been sold to the United States Steel Corporation. Returning, he was walking on the track, reading a paper. He failed to hear the engine and stepped directly in front of it, being thrown some distance. His neck was broken and he died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital.

Mr. Canfield was 82 years old and came to McKeesport in 1870 from Litchfield county, Conn. He was a heavy property owner and lived at the corner of Fifth avenue and Riverton street. His wife died in 1899, and he is survived by one son, James H., of Pittsburgh, and one daughter, Miss Lucy, at home.

Several years ago Mr. Canfield lost an arm and some time later the other arm was paralyzed. The interment will be made at his old home at Morris, Litchfield county, Conn., funeral services being held next Sunday afternoon.

WERE NOT SETTLED.

Chimney Blowers and Manufacturers Failed to Adjust Differences. Strike at Kentucky Mill.

The differences between the glass chimney blowers and the manufacturers were not adjusted at the meeting yesterday. The question of wages was not finally settled and the machine-blowing question still awaits adjustment. Most of the workers recognize that the machine has come to stay, and they do not agree with other workers who believe that machine-made goods should be made to cost the manufacturers so much that they cannot make them profitably.

The manufacturers want the workmen to remove the restrictions on the number of machine chimneys that may be made during a day. It is probable that there will be a compromise. The workmen are willing to leave the wages of the glass-blowers the same as during the last blast, but a 15½ per cent increase in the wages of the unskilled men, the gatherers, is asked.

At the headquarters of the Amalgamated association, a strike was reported at the new works of the Ashland Sheet Mill Company in Ashland, Ky., and President T. J. Shaffer departed for the scene. When the works started, the skilled men who went to work belonged to the Amalgamated association. The company agreed to pay the rate of wages demanded by the Amalgamated association, but made individual contracts with the men. Recently the workmen demanded that the company sign the Amalgamated wage scale, and on refusal, struck.

Many of the 200 firemen who on Wednesday struck at the Black Diamond steel works for $2, an advance of 10 cents a day, applied for their old places yesterday. The request was refused, and they were notified that they were discharged as soon as they quit work. Joseph Washolinski, one of the strikers, was arrested as a suspicious person. He had a big stone in his pocket when taken to the Central police station, and was held for a hearing tomorrow.

KILLED ON HIS VACATION.

Bank Teller Dodges a Trolley Car to Fall Under a Bicycle.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Stewart P. Stone, a paying teller of the First National bank of Phillipsburg, N. J., was killed in a bicycle accident here Wednesday night and today his body was taken back to his home, which he had left only a few days ago for a vacation.

Mr. Stone had just stepped from behind a trolley car when Frank Tenbroeck, son of former Mayor Tenbroeck, rode past on his wheel. Tenbroeck's handlebar struck Mr. Stone and knocked him down. Stone's head struck the car tracks and he was picked up unconscious and carried into St. James hotel, where he died at 11 o'clock. Tenbroeck, who is only 17 years old, was exonerated from all blame.

Morgan's Offer Probably Accepted.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Belief is general that J. Pierpont Morgan's shipping offer practically has been accepted by the government. Both Premier Balfour and J. S. Morgan & Co. refuse to commit themselves publicly on the matter.

ANOTHER PRICE GOES UP.

Boroughs Buying Street Light Must Pay More or Build Their Own Plants.

The price of street lights is to be advanced in every borough supplied with light by the Allegheny County Light Company, according to a statement made by a representative of the company before the council of East Pittsburgh last night. The borough's contract for are lights with the Allegheny County Light Company will expire in a few days, and the company desired to renew the agreement.

When the new proposition was presented to the council last night, however, it called for an increase of $10 per light per year, or $81 for each street light in the borough, while the rate last year was only $71, which has always been considered by boroughs as high.

The proposed advance produced a protest from the members of the council, and they were informed that as soon as the contracts with the other boroughs expired, the rate would also be advanced. The council refused to enter into the contract and is now considering the advisability of erecting a municipal light plant.

FULLY BELIEVE PRESIDENT WILL ACCORD JUSTICE

Catholic Societies Express Confidence in Fair Settlement of Question.

VOTE ALMOST UNANIMOUS

Members Refuse to Dismiss Matter With Expression of Satisfaction in Manner It Is Being Handled by Government and Vatican.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The temper of the convention of Federated Catholic Societies relative to Archbishop Ireland's warning not to interfere with the Philippine question was put to the test at the closing session today. John T. Keating, a national officer of the Hibernians, offered a substitute resolution for those previously brought before the meeting. Mr. Keating proposed that the delegates dismiss the friar and the public school questions with an expression of satisfaction with the manner in which the subject is being handled by the vatican and the administration. This was along the lines advised by Archbishop Ireland. When a motion on the substitute was put there was but one affirmative vote, and that one was Mr. Keating's. The convention then adopted the following resolution on the subject:

We hereby express confidence that the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, will perform his duty under the constitution and laws, and our firm belief that he will institute a rigid judicial inquiry into any abuses by subordinate government officials in our territorial possessions and promptly rectify such abuses. We are especially confident that in his dealings with the serious problems arising in the Philippine islands, property and personal rights, guaranteed by laws and constitution will be faithfully safeguarded and protected.

Sympathy for Friars.

Resolved, That we extend to the friars in the Philippines our fullest sympathy in this, the hour of trial; that we appreciate the value of their services in the cause of religion and humanity; that we pledge them our support as American citizens in upholding the hands of our government in its determination to see that they are treated with that common justice that belongs to all who enjoy the protection of the American flag.

Resolved, That this federation congratulate the vatican and the American government on the position attained in the negotiations, regarding the questions which have arisen in the Philippines, and we expect our full confidence that these negotiations will be continued until a just and amicable solution shall be obtained.

Other resolutions regretted the present circumstances surrounding the Indian schools and pledged active and moral support in remedying the conditions. The establishment of Catholic high schools, wherever practicable, was advocated; sympathy was expressed for the Catholics of France in their present troubles and suitable recognition was taken of the deaths of Archbishops Feehan and Corrigan.

Atlantic City was chosen as the meeting place of the convention in the third week of July, 1903.

Officers for the Year.

The election of officers resulted in few changes. The officers are: T. B. Minahan, Columbus, O., president; Louis W. Kauffman, New York, first vice president; F. B. Kierce, San Francisco, second vice president; Daniel Duffy, Pennsylvania, third vice president; Anthony F. Matro, Cincinnati, secretary; M. J. Fries, Erie, Pa., treasurer; Chris. O'Brien, Chicago, marshal; board of directors, M. P. Mooney, Ohio; Nicholas Gonner, Iowa; J. H. Riordan, Indiana; Thomas Cannon, Chicago; Dr. Fowler, Kentucky; F. P. Immekus, Pennsylvania, and D. P. Galvin, Vermont.

At the morning session Father O'Reilly, the Augustinian friar who called upon President Roosevelt some time ago as a representative of the order to lay the Catholic view of the question before him, said he thought he voiced the sentiment of the convention when he said that it was the place of the federation to enlighten the government as to the true situation in the Philippines. Men, he said, whose duty it was to inform the administration impartially had been blind to true conditions.

Once inform the president and the department of the state, he said, and there could be no possible doubt that federal officials could co-operate with the vatican without friction to the amicable settlement of the controversy.

Preparing for Anniversary.

The twentieth anniversary of the Women's General Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church will be held next May in the First church, Allegheny, where the society had its birth. Before the anniversary an effort will be made to carry out the recommendation of the last convention, held at Xenia, O., to double the membership of the junior and senior societies, double the contributions, the thank offerings and the subscriptions to the Women's and Juniors' magazines.

GREAT THRONGS GO TO SEA SHORE

EIGHTEEN TRAINS BORE PITTSBURGHERS TO ATLANTIC CITY.

It Was the Greatest Day in the History of Local Excursion Traffic to Popular City by the Sea—Pullmans Were Swamped.

The transient population of the "city by the sea" will this morning be increased by 5,000 free and happy citizens of Pittsburgh who left here yesterday to spend their vacation. Eighteen trains over the Pennsylvania railroad took the jolly crowd to Atlantic City. It was the greatest excursion from the Smoky City since the surf-rolled beach of the watering place was first known to fame. The pocketbooks of all the excursionists were fat with coin, all of which will be burned and the smoke mixed with the ozone of this famous watering resort.

Last night, before the Atlantic City excursion trains pulled out of Union station it was a moving mass of life and color. The large waiting-room was thronged with happy, laughing people, and when the gates to the trains were thrown open decorum was forgotten in a mad rush to them. The railroad officials had all their arrangements made for handling the crowd, and all were comfortably seated and the platforms cleared when the trains rolled out of the station. The arrangements were perfect, and not a single excursionist was left behind.

Long before the specials left the station all the sleeping car berths had been sold, and belated excursionists had to take day coaches. The Pullman company had thought it had ample accommodations for all that would apply, as it had placed at the disposal of the exodus 20 extra parlor cars and 39 Pullman sleepers. Six special Pullmans brought in the Wheeling excursionists, but every berth had been taken by the Nail City people.

In the early morning six extra sections of No. 12 were loaded solid in this city, and in the early evening five other sections rolled out of the station for Atlantic City. The last of the crowd went out at 9 o'clock last night, requiring two extra sections to be added to No. 4 train. Each special carried 12 coaches and Pullmans, and they were loaded to the guards.

The sales at the city ticket office of the Pennsylvania railroad amounted, before the office closed yesterday, to $20,000, which was one of the largest days yet recorded. The largest previous excursion of the Pennsylvania to Atlantic City from Pittsburgh was on August 5, 1893, when 42 Pullman cars and 25 coaches were sold out.

In the matter of revenue this is probably the largest excursion ever run out of Pittsburgh. It is estimated that the receipts of the Pennsylvania railroad for excursion tickets, sold at $10 each, will almost total $50,000. In addition to the regular fare the excursionists probably gave the Pullman company about $8,000.

STRIKE IS THREATENED.

Turtle Creek White Wings Want Their Pay.

The "white wings" of Turtle Creek threaten to go on strike tomorrow unless the borough council gets together and arranges to have the men paid.

The men should have been paid last Tuesday morning, after the regular monthly council meeting, which was to have been held on Monday night, but was not, owing to no quorum being present. The men employed on the streets yesterday notified the commissioners that unless their wages were paid they would refuse to work after today. It is thought a special meeting of council will be held, as there are a number of other important matters to be decided.

CANUCK WISDOM.

Knew How to Select Food.

A good healthy Canadian takes pleasure in telling about food, and how he got well by using the right kind of food and drink.

He says: "In November, 1899, I began to feel bad every day, and gradually got worse. I did not lose my appetite. On the contrary, after having a good meal I felt better, but after being at work perhaps an hour or so, I would have terrible pains all over my body. I lost considerable time from my work, sometimes a few hours and sometimes two or three days.

"Finally I went to the Winnipeg hospital for a thorough examination, and was told it was 'simply indigestion.' Certainly it was 'simply indigestion,' but I never had anything make me feel worse. I can sympathize with any one who has 'simply indigestion.'

"Well, I dragged through the winter in about the same condition, and got a little better in the summer, but in October, 1900, the same old pains came back, and I concluded I must change my diet if I expected to get any comfort, so I quit drinking tea and went on Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food.

"I ordered these articles from the grocer and expected to have them for supper, I had felt so bad that day. Of course, the grocer was late in delivering them, so I laid on the couch until they came, and ate supper about 7 p. m. After supper I did what I had not done for weeks before. I walked into the sitting-room lighted my pipe and read the evening paper and forgot I ever felt bad.

"I wondered if the old pain would come back, but it never did, and right from the first I improved. I have since worked constantly and hard and have not laid off once on account of ill-health, and have not once suffered from indigestion since that first meal of Grape-Nuts and Postum.

"This letter is the straight truth. It may be long, but I don't see how I could tell my experience in less space." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A booklet of excellent recipes in each package of Grape-Nuts.

The fight occurred in the country store of Brooks Carter. The talk drifted to the election, and a dispute arose. One man was seen to reach for his pistol, and a general fight ensued.

Indorsement Should Stand.

On account of the continued agitation of the question whether the Citizens party indorsement of the Republican state ticket shall be allowed to stand there are a few facts worth considering. This indorsement is conceded, even by those opposed to it, to be worth several thousand votes to the state candidates. That is a sufficient reason why The Gazette desires to see it stand. It ought to be a sufficient reason why State Chairman Quay should not object to it and why Judge Pennypacker and the other candidates should not refuse it.

Then there is the Union party—the John Wanamaker organization—which will enter the campaign supporting ex-Gov. Pattison. The leaders of that faction have been on most friendly footing with the "Insurgent Republicans" in Allegheny county. It is expected the Union party, with Pattison and Guthrie at the head of its ticket, will come into Allegheny county and take up the machine candidates for county offices. It is hoped by that means to win the support of the "Insurgents" for Pattison. If there was no other reason for wishing the Citizens party indorsement of Pennypacker and Brown to stand, it would be desirable as an offset to the Union party.

All of the contention of the machine organs is that this indorsement should be repudiated because it will strengthen the Citizens party county ticket. That is pure assumption. But if the truth of the proposition is admitted, will the same organs protest against the indorsement of the Republican county ticket by the Pattison Union party? Not likely. On the contrary, it may be suspected the real grievance of the local machine organs lies in the fact that the Republican state ticket is composed of men whose character recommends them to the support of other organizations as well as that of the rank and file of the Republican party in the state. As a Republican newspaper The Gazette is glad to see the Republican ticket get strength from any source, and the Citizens party indorsement is welcome.

King Edward's Health.

Unless something entirely unexpected occurs King Edward will be crowned tomorrow. He has returned to London in as good health as could be expected under the circumstances, and on his arrival would have been able to undergo the fatigue of the ceremonial. True, there are sensation-mongers who declare his step is not elastic and his eye not over bright. They affect to see in these things symptoms of ineradicable disease or imminent collapse. But these sensationalists do not undertake to say just what they expect of a man who has passed the three-score years and begun adding up the ten of man's allotted life.

King Edward is no longer a young man. His life has been such as to make him fully as old as the record of his years. Endowed with a splendid constitution, good vitality and sanguine temperament, he has been able to hold his own, but it would be rather too much to demand that he should come to his coronation with the chipper manner of a boy, especially seven weeks after submitting to a serious surgical operation.

A Distinguished American.

The date selected by Andrew Dickson White on which to lay down the burdens of public life is November 7, the day on which he will be 70 years of age. The American ambassador to Germany some time ago formed the purpose of resigning when he reached the age of three-score and ten, and no one will begrudge him the rest to which he is entitled.

Dr. White is a veteran diplomatist and has served his country in many capacities through a long series of years. He was an attache of the United States legation at St. Petersburg during the critical period of the Crimean war. While traveling in Europe in 1862 for the benefit of his health he was active as a writer in opposition to the attempt to bring about an intervention of European powers in favor of the southern confederacy. On his return to America he was elected a member of the New York senate. He became the first president of Cornell university in 1867, retaining that post until 1885, although in the meantime he accepted from President Grant an appointment as member of the Santo Domingo commission when the annexation of that island was considered; served as chairman of the jury of public instruction at the centennial exposition, 1876; received the officer's cross of the Legion of Honor for his work on the jury of appeals at the Paris exposition of 1878, and succeeded Bayard Taylor as minister to Germany by appointment of President Hayes in 1879. President Harrison made him minister to Russia, President Cleveland appointed him a member of the Venezuelan boundary commission, and President McKinley sent him back to Berlin, this time as ambassador.

With his varied experiences as an educator, a diplomatist and a writer, Dr. White has led a busy life and a useful one, marred in late years by tragic bereavements and embittered by family sorrow. That the remaining days of this distinguished American will be passed in peace is the hope of his fellow countrymen.

Bryan's Postscript.

Mr. Bryan is, after all, willing to again sacrifice himself, granting that he is fairly quoted in the utterance last attributed to him. An Associated Press dispatch is authority for the utterance, and as the Associated Press is good authority, it may be accepted as a fact that Mr. Bryan is not misrepresented. The dispatch is dated from Mason City, Ia., and this is a verbatim copy of the essential matter relating to the editor of the Commoner:

> He was asked if he had been correctly quoted when it was reported he refused to again be a candidate for president. He replied that only a part of the interview had been used.
>
> Mr. Bryan said he was not a candidate in the light of seeking again to lead the Democratic party, but if the party should decide he was the proper man to head the ticket he could not honorably say no.
>
> He said he believed the money issue is still prominent, but that the Republican administration in the Philippines and the trust problems are sufficient issues to make a campaign upon.

Previous publications concerning utterances made in "the enemy's country" by Mr. Bryan represented him as declaring he would not again be a candidate for the presidency. The Mason City postscript is in effect that if his party wants him to head its ticket in 1904 he will say yes. There has been no evidence furnished by any of the Democratic state conventions of this year, except that of Missouri, that his party wants Mr. Bryan, and Missouri is not strong enough to nominate him without help. It had been presumed that in what did not appear in Democratic state platforms Mr. Bryan read that the sun of leadership had set for him, and that his decision not to be a candidate was the tuning of his intentions to the desires of Democratic leaders and the growing wish of the Democratic rank and file. Now a change comes o'er the spirit of the dream. Mr. Bryan says that "only a part of the interview" was used, and he produces the unused portion to let it be known that he is not irreconcilably opposed to a third attempt. This will be a distinct shock to Democrats east, and not wholly to the liking of Democrats west, in whose minds the name Bryan spells defeat and is a guarantee of it. Republicans, however, will shed no tears over Mr. Bryan's continuance in the forefront of Democratic endeavor. His presence there is no small assurance of Republican ascendency.

Mr. Bryan "said he believed the money issue to be still prominent." Once he believed it paramount, or said he did, and that it would remain paramount until the populistic ratio prevailed. Now it is only prominent and "the Republican administration in the Philippines and the trust problem are sufficient issues to make a campaign upon." In other words, they are not so paramount as money was, but they will have to do. The tariff question is being laboriously dandled in the forefront by Chairman Griggs of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, in the effort to convince prosperous workingmen of the beauties of free trade, but Mr. Bryan apparently sees nothing in it. At least he doesn't mention it. There is thus a present difference among Democrats as to the relative importance of issues, and there is a great gap as to the money issue between Mr. Bryan, who considers it prominent but not paramount, and other Democrats, including Chairman Griggs, who consider it too dangerous to mention. But it makes little difference, either this year or in 1904. For even those which are considered by Bryan and by Griggs to be "sufficient issues to make a campaign on" are not sufficient for Democratic success. They are, however, abundantly sufficient for Republican success. The grounds chosen by the Democrats, even while they jangle out of tune, are sufficient for Republican success. Protection and free trade, which Mr. Bryan shies away from; the money issue, which this year's Democratic campaign managers avoid as they would the smallpox, and the Philippines and the trusts will be all discussed with enthusiasm by Republican campaign orators. They will avoid none of them.

Alfonso Is Waking Up Spain.

The boy king of Spain may have been rude to his mother some time ago, as reported by the correspondents, and if so his conduct deserves to be condemned. But now come reports indicating that in other ways he appears to be a sensible young man, whose interest in his people and in his government is making him many friends at home. If they are true, Alfonso is evidently trying to wake Spain up from the sleep of decades, and to put new industrial and commercial life into the ancient kingdom.

His reported remarks at Oviedo, where he examined files of old newspapers in the university library, indicate the wide-awake and progressive young man. He discovered that it took only a day to get news from Madrid in the early years of the nineteenth century, while in the twentieth it requires two days. Alfonso's sarcastic remarks concerning the moribund condition of the Spanish news service are said to have caused amusement, but they ought to have a more lasting and beneficial effect. Instead of being demented, as had been reported, he seems to be determined that his kingdom shall get into the procession. Her war with America was a good thing for Spain, for it showed her how far behind she was lagging. There is distinct promise of better times in the future.

Most Successful Tour.

After a most interesting and enjoyable tour of Europe the party of teachers sent out by The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph starts home from Glasgow today. Aside from mal de mer, at the beginning of the Atlantic journey, no member of the party has been ill. It is not likely any will be seasick on the steamer Columbia coming to New York, so the voyage should pleasantly complete one of the most remarkable tours ever undertaken by such a party. The result ought to be of decided benefit to educational interests in Western Pennsylvania.

This tour is indicative of the enterprise of The Gazette. It was planned on more generous lines than any similar project ever undertaken by any newspaper, and has been carried out to the letter with a few extras thrown in. It has been entirely satisfactory to the management and there is good reason to believe it has been so to the tourists. Meanwhile, The Gazette goes forward in the making of a morning newspaper not excelled in the state, printing all the news that is true, defending the right and promoting the best interests of the great Pittsburgh region.

Italy and Disarmament.

In the discussion of the king of Italy's proposition for a disarmament of Europe, attention seems to be wholly directed on the probability of his ability to influence his brother sovereigns to whom he submits it, especially the kaiser. The latter, according to all reports, is too much in love with his army and too thoroughly convinced of its ability to give patient ear to the Italian king. But if the kaiser cannot be now induced to join in a reduction of Europe's soldiery, let Victor Emmanuel show him the practical benefits of such a program and performance by setting an example in his own domains. This phase of the matter and its entire feasibility seem to have been overlooked. Italy, according to report, needs the money that is being wasted on a large army, and has perhaps less real need of an army than any other of the great powers of Europe. Let the army be reduced and the money saved for other purposes for which it is needed, or left in the pockets of the overtaxed people. When Victor Emmanuel is through with his visiting and hobnobbing let him return to his capital and address himself to this task. He will thereby set a good example, and, while argument may fail, example is often contagious. Moreover, an independent course is calculated to win respect.

The writers of what the New York Times called "the most impudent communication ever addressed to a President of the United States" did not receive an answer by return mail, but they will get one. The war department has a colonel working on a letter that will be full of warm facts.

Notwithstanding the cool weather, the exodus of Pittsburghers to the seashore keeps up. Residents of this city have money to spend for vacations and they intend to spend it.

There is nothing to prevent Whitelaw Reid from donning those knee breeches and looking owlish on Saturday, at the exact time that King Edward is being crowned in London.

The United States fishery commissioner speaks pessimistically of the supply of lobsters. Of course he refers solely to the marine variety.

That alleged sympathy strike of Company H, of the Ninth Regiment, occurred in the fertile imagination of a yellow journalist.

What a shock it will be to King Edward if anything should make another postponement of his coronation necessary.

England is even importing American theology. Six American clergymen preached in London on Sunday.

If Lord Charles Beresford studies the whole United States navy he will have to make a trip around the world.

Mr. Baldwin is an unusual sort of an Arctic explorer. He won't lecture between dashes to the Pole.

Only a short time is left for the coronation fatalists to get in their work.

After Monday King Edward is expected to be beyond the bulletin stage.

Perhaps Cuba thinks that her Uncle Samuel will endorse her note.

Japan speaks for about $10,000,000 worth of enlarged navy.

Some Tennessee electors voted with their guns yesterday.

A Shafter Anecdote.

From the New York Tribune.

Some army officers who were in Cuba with Gen. Shafter's army of invasion told the other day an anecdote at the expense of the commander of that expedition. The troops with all their paraphernalia of war had landed and were awaiting the order to advance on Santiago. Staff officers were busy carrying out the details for the advance and everywhere there was hurry and bustle. Shafter was lying in a hammock in front of his headquarters at Siboney, while a hundred yards down the road the men of the signal corps were inflating the war balloon preparatory to making the first ascension.

Without warning, the ropes which held it captive parted, and the balloon, half inflated and looking for all the world like the body and legs of a gigantic fat man, started down the road toward Santiago. There was just enough gas in it to keep it upright without entirely clearing the ground, and it went bobbing along, up and down, as though it were walking.

A negro soldier passing along at that moment saw the balloon and shouted at the top of his voice:

"Hir, dar! Guess dat mus' be de ole man kom' fur de front!"

NOT WIDE OPEN, OR TIGHT SHUT

Sunday Conditions in Gotham at Old-Time Normal—Low, Defends the Police.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.

The police department and its ways continue to be the most interesting topics of conversation in New York city. Mayor Low gave a fillip to the discussion today by paying particular attention to the police in his weekly "talk." He admits that the department is not perfect, but charges the deficiencies to bad laws rather than to the management of the police commissioner. This is interesting, in face of persistent rumors that Commissioner Partridge will soon resign and that another man, whose name is declared to be used without his authority, will be put into Partridge's place. The mayor's "talk" was commented on today with the more earnestness because there is a story afloat that the policemen are paying for promotion as regularly as they used to do under Tammany rule, and that in some cases the "goods" were not delivered. If this is the fact there are likely to be some startling developments soon. The public has its collective eye on the police department and does not believe it is much cleaner than ever it was. Mayor Low says it is, and Commissioner Partridge would like to be shown any irregular proceedings on the part of anyone connected with it. One item of the mayor's "talk" has caused much comment, approving or otherwise, according to the person who made the observation, and that is his opinion that the excise law is fairly well enforced, with a sandwich considered a "meal" and Raines law hotels selling liquor on Sundays as they have from the beginning. The general view is that the city is in the comfortable condition in which it was under Tammany jurisdiction, that is to say, not exactly "wide open," but conducted without the troublesome restrictions in liquor selling which made the liberal Manhattanite grumble so much at the beginning of the present administration, particularly if he happened to be an habitue of upper Broadway by electric light. Mayor Low seems to have made up his mind that puritanism cannot exist in New York, and he is making the best he can of rather unpromising material.

Moses Comes to Pittsburgh.

Morris E. Moses, the well-known Pittsburgher, who has been in New York for a month, has run over to Pittsburgh to be present at the opening of the Bijou theater tonight. He tells me that he and Mrs. Moses intend to go to the Adirondacks for a short sojourn before he settles down to business for the fall and winter in Pittsburgh.

Apparent Peace on the L.

Although we may be on the eve of a big strike on the "L" there is nothing in the present condition of the road to suggest such a catastrophe. The trains run as usual, and the engineers that lean out of the little windows as they keep their hands on the throttle and air brake lever, smile as genially as usual at the young women in the second story windows along the route. They may expect to strike, but if they do it does not trouble them outwardly. There is less talk to be heard about the possible strike than is afloat generally under such circumstances. The men have left their quarrel in the hands of their representatives, and if the order to strike should come, it will be as startling to the participants as to the world at large. It may be that the question of strike or no strike will be decided tomorrow morning.

Status of an Iron Strike.

It was said over in the Greenpoint quarter of Brooklyn today that the strike begun by 600 iron workers from the Empire Bridge Company at Clay street two months ago had been declared off. Many of the strikers in the streets denied the report. The company has about 400 men working in its plant, and does not concern itself about the strike one way or the other.

Vacationists Begin to Return.

New York looks busier every day now. Not that there is more trading in the stores than there has been all summer, but there are so many people with sunburned faces in the streets that the prominent thoroughfares are crowded, especially in the afternoons. It is the season when the vacationists begin to return to town, and they all want to walk about the streets and avenues to see whether old Gotham has changed materially in the few weeks that they have been at the seashore or in Europe. Merchants say that they have not experienced any increase of trade from the homecomers. They declare, philosophically, that you cannot expect people to spend money in stores on returning from a vacation, for the simple reason that there is very little money in their possession. In the course of a few weeks, when the holiday-makers have had time to replenish their coffers—say, about the beginning of September—it is expected that trade will be rushing, for every indication is that New York will have one of the best seasons of fall trade the city ever has experienced.

Dealer in Antiques Made a Chevalier.

Henry Duveen, a dealer in furniture and antiques of this city, whose store is one of the best known in Fifth avenue, had to go away from home for honors. Word comes from Paris that he has just been made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor in recognition of his work in developing French art in the United States.

Young Marquis' Case Progressing.

The case of Marquis Carlo di Rudini, son of the ex-premier of Italy, who is at the private sanitarium of Dr. William T. Bull, suffering from appendicitis, is said tonight to be progressing favorably.

Sameness About Elevator Accidents.

Another elevator accident in New York was added to the long list yesterday. In this case the cable parted when the cage was four floors from the ground, and a man was killed. It seems as if the only variation in the elevator accidents in this city is in the way it happens. The result is much the same every time—somebody killed or very badly hurt.

Important Theatrical Opening.

The Academy of Music opened tonight for the season. It is the first of the more important playhouses in New York to throw open its doors, and it was jammed from pit to gallery when the curtain went up. The play was a dramatization of what has come to be known as a "B'gosh" novel, entitled "Quincy Adams Sawyer." Charles Dickson, favorably known in Pittsburgh, plays the leading part. The piece was splendidly produced, and scenes showing a husking bee and barn dance were capitally done.

The Horse Show on Long Island.

New York horse lovers are preparing to go down to the horse show at Bay Shore, Long Island, on Friday and Saturday of this week. For two months past the gentlemen who are actively interested in the Bay Shore Horse Show association have been hard at work to insure success, and this affair promises to take the leadership among all the summer horse shows. The Bay Shore Horse Show association is composed entirely of men who live in the summer homes at Bay Shore, Islip, Sayville or Babylon. Charles F. Hubbs is the president and George A. Ellis, Jr., secretary. Among the stockholders are such well-known horse owners as Frederick G. Bourne, H. O. Havemeyer, H. H. Hollister, W. Orme Wilson, August Belmont, W. H. Baldwin, Jr., president of the Long Island railroad; Juan M. Ceballos, W. Bayard Cutting, James H. Hyde and Bradish Johnson.

Expecting the Chinese Prince.

Prince Chen, the Chinese ambassador to King Edward's coronation, is expected to arrive in New York city on the steamer St. Paul on Saturday morning. He will be welcomed at the pier by James B. Reynolds, Mayor Low's secretary. A squad of mounted police will escort the prince and his party and Mr. Reynolds to the Waldorf-Astoria. If Prince Chen's engagements permit, he will call at the City hall on Monday to pay his respects to Acting Mayor Fornes. That will be the only official ceremony, beyond the welcome by Mr. Reynolds, during the prince's brief stay in New York. He will go to Washington from this city.

A Long Time for Tim to Wait.

Timothy Woodruff, lieutenant governor of New York, who has just returned from Europe, is something of a political enigma. He has said that he would not be a candidate for re-election as lieutenant governor. On the other hand, no one supposes he will get out of politics altogether, and there is a general curiosity as to what office he may desire to fill. He would like to be a United States senator, as everyone knows; but against the realization of his ambition in that regard there is the fact that Chauncey M. Depew's term will not expire until March 4, 1905, and that our Chauncey rather enjoys the sensation of being a senator, so is not likely to resign before the expiration of his term. After that there will be room for Tim, perhaps; but it is an awfully long time to wait.

The Alpine Hat a Dismal Failure.

Never were so many rakish-looking straw hats on the heads of evidently respectable men seen in the streets of New York as is the case this summer. Straw hats that have lost all comeliness of form, that are sun-browned, spotted and drooping, are the rule rather than the exception in Wall street, in Broadway and even in Fifth avenue. Now and then a straw hat of the sailor pattern looks as if it might have been new this summer, but most of the hats bear the aspect of having been picked off a rubbish heap several years ago. The reason for this unwonted shabbiness of the masculine "lid" in New York is simple, too. It is that the "Alpine" shape has been popular, and most men, tired of the "buzz-saw" or sailor hat, have taken to the more dashing "Alpine" as a relief; but the men wearing this style of hat did not take into consideration the weather. You may wear a stiff "buzz-saw" for a whole summer without losing its shape, but the other style gets a hang-dog look on it as soon as it has been in a shower of rain, particularly if it is subjected to hot sunshine, dust and soft coal smoke soon afterward. Hat dealers say they have sold many sailor hats late in the season to men who have found the "Alpine" impossible after a month's wear, and expect that sailors will quite recover their vogue in New York next year. The Panama hat, with its drooping brim and generally careless cut, is responsible for the large use of "Alpines," but they are not a success and will be retired almost entirely next summer in all probability.

A Globe-Trotter's Task Nearly Ended.

New York said good-by to at least one distinguished globe-trotter today, the Viscount de Clinchamp, who is the French member of a party known as the De Windt mission, that set out from Paris on December 19, 1901, for an overland trip around the world. He left for home on the French line steamship La Bretagne. The viscount's arrival in Paris will complete his trip and he will be the second to arrive home. The De Windt mission started out with four members. Two are still traveling, De Windt and an Englishman named Harding. The Russian member of the party, M. Rastorgueguss, has already arrived in Vladivostok, Russia.

Origin of the Loop-the-Loop.

The "loop-the-loop," which is still one of the big attractions at Coney Island, Rockaway and other pleasure resorts in Greater New York, was invented by a man named Prescott and is the application of a discovery made by him as a boy. Then he invented a toy, a billiard ball performing the part of the car in the Coney Island loop and of Diavolo on the bicycle in the enlarged and glorified loop of his later years. It is a curious instance of the value of an idea, for Prescott has made a great deal of money in sticking to that idea and developing it. When he conceived the notion of bicycle rider in the loop he met with difficulty in finding a man to perform the feat. He employed athletes, gymnasts, professional and show bicyclists, even engaging that reckless one-legged man who did the "ride for life," but one and all failed to accomplish the feat. Prescott was in despair. When he was at the point when he thought he must abandon the scheme which seemed to have so much profit in it, Vandervoort, who was in his employ as an engineer, said that he would do it. He is neither a gymnast nor an athlete, and was only an amateur bicycle rider—a six-footer, weighing 180 pounds, a confirmed cigarette smoker, and so awkward in his movements as to make his suggestion laughable. But he proved that he could "loop the loop" on a wheel, and now, under the name of "Diavolo," he is rapidly making a fortune.

A "Progressive" Nation.

From the Philadelphia Press.

There is a charming blonde young woman well known to Philadelphia as well as Baltimore and New York who laughs when you call her "Senora." A woman friend gave the story away, and as she takes it good naturedly there is no use keeping the joke away from the public. You see, young as she is, she elected to marry a man who was a grandfather, or, rather, he became one soon after his marriage to her. She has that deceptive, innocent type of beauty that gives the owner the appearance of being about 18. She was looking at the Cuban curios and souvenirs for sale at a bazar with a woman friend, and the old woman behind the wares called her "Senorita."

"No, no," said the friend, "she is Senora."

The old woman shook her head and declined to believe. "No senorita," she said. "She is a girl," she continued in broken English; "she too young and pretty."

"Yes, she is a senora," said Mrs. G——, wishing to tease the younger woman, and, remembering the birth of the grandchild, she added: "She is not only married, but she is a grandmother!"

"Dios! But these Americans are so progressive!" said the old Cuban.

Unable to Give an Opinion.

From the New York Times.

Dr. Temple, the present archbishop of Canterbury, who will crown King Edward VII., is a man of great humor. When he was bishop of Exeter a lady met him and exclaimed:

"Oh, Bishop! Was it not providential my aunt missed the train this morning or she might have been killed in the railroad accident?"

The bishop replied: "I can't say, madam, as I have never seen your aunt."

LORD CURZON IN HIGHEST FAVOR

Abdul Hamid's Pan-Islam Propaganda a Political Movement.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Little by little the particulars of the negotiations between the vatican and the American commission representing the Philippine government are coming to light. It will be remembered that the point on which the negotiations came to grief was the refusal of the vatican to undertake that the friars should be withdrawn within two years. All other points were to be settled through arbitration on the part of a tribunal composed of five arbitrators; two appointed by the United States; two by the vatican and the fifth by Lord Curzon.

If I call attention to this it is for the purpose of demonstrating the high regard in which Lord Curzon, the viceroy of India, and the husband of a very charming and clever American wife, is held, both at Washington and at Rome. That he should have been selected by both the United States government and by the papacy to nominate the fifth and most important member of the projected commission of arbitration—the member who would have the casting vote—indicates a sincere respect for the judgment of India's governor general.

Sublime Porte's Sly Move.

It may be well to call the attention of the authorities at Washington, especially at the war department, to the propaganda of the Pan-Islam movement which the sultan of Turkey has recently inaugurated in the Philippine islands. Nominally the propoganda is purely religious, and the missionaries dispatched by him along with cargoes of Korans for distribution in the islands, have no other object than to strengthen and revive the faith of those Filipinos who are already followers of the prophet, and to convert those who have not yet been gathered into the fold of Mohammed.

In reality, the movement is political and aims at the extension, not merely of a spiritual, but likewise of a temporal control on the part of the Ottoman sultan over Islamites in all parts of the world, including the Philippine islands.

Inasmuch as there are several millions of Mohammedans in the Philippine islands, and that they constitute the most warlike and fanatic element of the population, the action of the sultan cannot be regarded as a matter of indifference at Washington. For in the event of any trouble between the sublime porte and the United States the Turkish sovereign would be in a position to create trouble for the American government inciting these Mohammedan inhabitants of the Philippines who have given him their allegiance as caliph to insurrection against the United States authorities.

The Austrian government suppresses with an iron hand the Pan-Slav movement in Bohemia and Croatia. The English government shows itself equally severe with regard to the Pan-Islam movement in India and in the Soudan. There is no reason, therefore, why the United States should borrow trouble by tolerating the Turkish sultan's Pan-Islam enterprises in the Philippines.

Fresh Orleanist Propaganda.

It is, thanks to the judicious intervention of the emperor of Austria, that the duchess of Orleans was not expelled the other day by the police from French territory. Her husband, the pretender, as everyone knows, is the object of a decree of banishment enacted against him and against the head of the house of Bonaparte by the national legislature of France. But this law has until now not been extended to the ladies of the family of either of the two principal pretenders to the throne of France.

The duchess of Orleans, who is as energetic and courageous a woman as her husband is the reverse, came to France about three weeks ago, and since then has been busily engaged in carrying on a royalist propaganda on behalf of the duke, which from a Republican point of view, has been particularly pernicious in view of the trouble which the government is experiencing in connection with the enforcement of the laws against those religious orders and congregations which have declined to conform to the statutes of the land as regards registration, etc.

The duchess visited various churches and cathedrals, attended by great retinue, and was greeted everywhere with cries of "Long live the queen," receiving at the same time the homage due to a consort of a king of France from all kinds of deputations which called upon her for the purpose of expressing their longing for a restoration of the monarchy in France.

What seems to have given more offence than anything else to the French government was the advantage taken by the duchess of special courtesies accorded to her by the authorities in connection with her inspection of the palace of Versailles to hold there a grand reception royalist demonstration, during the course of which hundreds of members of the aristocracy paid her their respects, precisely as if she had been holding a full-fledged court. This was the last straw, and recalling the fact that the duchess was by birth a member of the reigning house of Austria, the French government quietly, and through diplomatic channels, invoked the intervention of good old Emperor Francis Joseph, and it was in obedience to an intimation received from him that the duchess suddenly cut short her stay in France and returned to Austria to rejoin her husband at the country seat of her parents, Archduke and Archduchess Joseph of Austria, at their place in Hungary.

It is, therefore, untrue to state that the duchess has been expelled by the French government from the territory of the republic. She merely quitted Paris in deference to a recommendation received from her kinsman, Emperor Francis Joseph, to whom she owes obedience, not only as an Austrian archduchess, but likewise by reason of the hospitality which he accords to both her husband and to herself in his dominions.

Awkward English Diplomat.

Lord Currie is about to be deprived of his post as English ambassador at Rome. For it is to his absence of suavity and to his brusquerie that is ascribed the coolness that has taken the place of the formerly so cordial and intimate relations between Italy and Great Britain. Lord Currie was a dismal failure at Constantinople. But owing to the influence which he commanded at the foreign office in London he was not shelved, but was transferred instead to the infinitely more agreeable post of English ambassador at Rome. He is not a trained diplomat, but made his career as a clerk in the London foreign office, serving for a long time Lord Salisbury as private secretary.

Member of one of the great banking families of the city of London, and as such extremely rich, he has the thoroughly English contempt for everything foreign, and that British affection of superiority, which gives so much offense abroad. Moreover he succeeded at Rome three of the most courteous and amiable diplomats that it was possible to find, men of the most fascinating manners, namely, the late Lord Savile, the late Sir Francis Ford and the late marquis of Dufferin.

Lord Currie's marriage to his present wife was the climax of a romantic attachment of many years' duration, which subsisted during the lifetime of her former husband, when she was still Mrs. Singleton, though known in literature and especially in poetry under the pen name of "Violet Fane." As Lady Currie she seems to have lost much of that charm which rendered her so popular in London society as Mrs. Singleton, and which went so far to disarm criticism. For I cannot find that at Rome or at Constantinople Lady Currie has made herself any more beloved than her very generally disliked husband.

PERSONALS.

W. C. Kelly, president of the Kelly ax works of Alexandria, Ind., one of the largest plants of its kind in the world, is at the Duquesne. The plant employs 800 men and has been running steadily for many years. "I have just dropped into Pittsburgh," he remarked last night, "to have some orders for steel shipped to us. It is impossible to get our orders filled for steel, either by writing, wiring or telephoning. I always have to come to Pittsburgh and fight to get our contracts filled. Yes, the gas is still holding out in Indiana, and we still have plenty for home consumption, but the supply to foreign consumers must soon be shut off. Many of the gas wells are running out and are now commencing to flow oil. This oil is being used for fuel at many of the plants in Indiana, and I have purchased a lot of machinery to tap the oil sand in our wells. Gas was found in Indiana just above the oil and the sand was only touched by the drill when the gas flow was struck."

Four Pullman sleepers and a baggage car, made up as a special train, carried over the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad last night 103 Elks and their families of Allegheny lodge to Salt Lake city. They go there to attend the national convention.

Robert E. Porter of the firm of Brown & Porter, brokers of Los Angeles, Cal., passed through the city last night after an absence of four months in South America. "I went to South America," he remarked, "on a mining venture for a western mining company. Times are very hard in South America, and money can only be gotten by paying 30 per cent interest. American capital could, I think, be profitably invested in the mining business in South America at the present time. When the eruption of Mont Pelee occurred I was in Barbados, about 100 miles from St. Vincent. It was estimated that over 3,000,000 tons of this volcanic dust, which I am showing you, fell in Barbados and its neighborhood. For days the sun was almost hidden by the clouds of dust, borne on the wind from Mont Pelee."

Samuel P. Woodside, general agent of the Erie railroad in this city for 15 years, has been appointed traffic manager of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, to succeed H. J. Lawrence, resigned. For a number of years Mr. Woodside also held the position of chairman of the Pittsburgh freight committee and was a member of the special committee on steel rails and new iron.

Miss Margaret Donnan of Washington, Pa., left Pittsburgh last evening, accompanied by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Donnan, to sail for Germany, where she will spend four years in the study of music at Munich. Many friends bade her goodby at the Union station last night. Miss Donnan is a Washington seminary graduate, and is well known in musical circles in Washington.

CAMPAIGN WILL BE ENLIVENED BY GLEE CLUBS

Citizens' Party Is Organizing Effective Musical Clubs for Service.

WORK CUT OUT FOR STONE

Machine Expects Him to Inspire Objection by Secretary of the Commonwealth to Placing Republican Nominees at Head of Ticket.

Elaborate plans are making by the committee on meetings and speakers which is to have charge of the campaign gatherings of the Citizens party this fall. The committee is busy just now cornering the musical talent of the county, and every meeting will be enlivened by the most stirring kind of campaign songs.

According to plans, six quartets and glee clubs will be formed, and at least one will be in attendance at each meeting, while at the big rallies there is a probability that the entire six will be consolidated.

This musical feature is a popular one in modern political campaigns. The Citizens will have some of the best male singers in the county to direct the organizations, and the music is expected to stir the voters to enthusiasm.

Arrangements for the meetings have not yet been settled. At least three monster gatherings will be held, however, one in Pittsburgh, one in Allegheny and one in McKeesport, and another will probably be held at some other point for the especial benefit of the country voters. In addition, scores of smaller meetings will be held in the different boroughs and townships.

Stone to Do Work.

The county organization's plan for disputing the right of the Citizens' party to place the Republican state nominees at the head of its ticket is slowly outlining itself. The secretary of the commonwealth, by direction of Gov. Stone, is to refuse to place these names on the ballot when he certifies it to the commissioners of Allegheny county, on the pretext that it is unlawful for a political body to indorse the nominees of a political party.

Gov. Stone is expected to exert the necessary influence to have Secretary W. W. Griest do this, but it is extremely doubtful whether the secretary will follow his orders.

Politicians throughout the state recognize the fact that the political power of Gov. Stone, since the disastrous defeat of the Stone-Elkin-Brown combination at the state convention, is a thing of the past.

However, it is probable that the attempt will be made, as Stone's Allegheny county friends are calling on him for aid in this, their hour of greatest need.

Silent as a Wall.

Gov. Stone was asked last night about the possible return of Senator William Flinn to politics and the probable fight over the placing of the Republican nominees at the head of the Citizens ticket, but gave the stereotyped reply that he has been handing out to all queries on politics for months past, "I have nothing to say."

The governor is becoming more reticent than ever on subjects political, and apparently seeks to slip out of office unnoticed by the people with whom he broke faith. He is not getting out of politics, however, and the guidance of his hand can be plainly seen in machine plans in this county. He is said to be desirous of having Congressman William H. Graham returned this fall, and of himself succeeding Graham, who is slated to retire in his favor at the end of the next term. This plan is likely to be disjointed when the ballots are counted in November, for George Shiras III. looks like a certain winner, and the governor's unpopularity in his home city is enough to drag a stronger candidate than Graham down to defeat.

None of the other state officials can be induced to discuss for publication Flinn's probable return to politics and the action of the Citizens' party in indorsing the Republican state ticket. Privately they say it will cost the machine county ticket thousands of votes and that it is almost certain to elect the entire Citizens county ticket.

Durham's Vain Flight.

Former City Attorney Clarence Burleigh has been at Atlantic City for some time, where he was in close communion with Israel W. Durham. It is presumed that the insurance commissioner was so deeply impressed by the pitiful appeals for aid and mercy presented by Mr. Burleigh, that he took the train for Yellowstone park, openly announcing that he proposed to bury himself there, as he could not secure rest at any other place. He will be disappointed, when he discovers that County Chairman A. C. Robertson, another emissary of the ring, is hot on his trail.

In the meantime Mr. Burleigh, deserted by his erstwhile companion, is happy in the contemplation of a change of mind on the part of Mr. Durham, and announces with surprising confidence, that he thinks Israel has persuaded Senator Quay to advise against allowing Judge Pennypacker's name to head the Citizens' ticket in Allegheny county. Mr. Burleigh's confidence does not seem to have been communicated to the machine Indians, who are holding their last annual war council at Georgian Bay, and sending hourly appeals to their former all powerful medicine man, "Billflinn," to come to their aid.

MAKES HOME SITES WHILE HE TUNNELS

HOW J. M. BAILEY PROFITS BY REFUSE FROM ENTERPRISES.

Dirt Dug from Two Holes at the Bottom of Mt. Washington, South Side, Is Hauled to the Top, Then Dumped Down Into Other Holes.

Tons of rock are being taken from the bluff face of Mt. Washington, on the Carson street level, and hauled in wagons to an incline, up the incline to the top, and finally find a resting place on the top of the hill.

High up on the face of the bluff is a gang of men chipping off the rock. The men work with ropes fastened about their bodies so that if they lose their footing they cannot fall far, and can be hauled back by their companions. Several have fallen, but so far none has been killed.

There are really two gangs of these men. They are working so closely together that their work laps. In law there is a space of six feet between the gangs, but nobody except the foremen know where the six feet begins or ends, so the six feet is cut away with the rest.

This work is opposite the south end of the Smithfield street bridge, and at the foot of Brownsville avenue, where it turns from following the side of the hill to Carson street, under the Panhandle tracks. A year ago James M. Bailey had a hole dug into the hill, 50 or more feet, and it was announced that there was going to be a tunnel. The end of the hole was planked up when the Panhandle railroad began its great improvements, and it was announced that nothing would be done until the railroad company got through.

Two Gangs Work Side by Side.

Early last spring tents were pitched on top of the hill and word was passed that Booth & Flinn had a contract to put a tunnel through the hill. There followed a series of conflicts between the Booth & Flinn and the Bailey men, and it was given out that neither side could build the tunnel without making a deal with the other.

But the work went right along. The case was taken to court and there it was decided that both tunnels can be dug if the projectors see fit, and that their lines are six feet apart. The Booth & Flinn foreman on the ground said yesterday that "we" had offered the Baily company $50,000 to get away and stop digging, but that they had refused it and insisted that they, too, were going through the hill.

What to do with the debris from the tunnels was a question until James M. Bailey announced that he wanted it all. Of course this was satisfactory to the Booth & Flinn people, because the removal of the debris would have been a serious matter to them, as it would have to be loaded on cars and taken out of the city.

What Mr. Bailey wanted with the rotten rock, which has no commercial value, could not be understood at first. He put on a large force of teams, for both day and night, and is hauling the debris to the Castle Shannon incline. Up the incline go the loads, and then, after being hauled a short distance over the hill, they are dumped on some of Mr. Bailey's property, which, even if it is on top of the hill, is full of hollows and at present unfit for building purposes.

How Mr. Bailey Can Afford This.

Nobody but Mr. Bailey could afford to make such a movement of debris. The hauling alone is an item, but when 25 cents a round trip on the incline is considered, it makes such movement prohibitive to nearly everybody. Still Mr. Bailey owns the incline, or nearly owns it, he being president of the company, and when the whole transaction is considered, he is simply using his own property to improve some land on the top of the hill so he can dispose of it. Everything he has on the South Side is being benefited.

Yesterday an answer was filed in the common pleas court No. 2, in the equity suit of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company against the Mt. Washington Tunnel Company and Booth & Flinn, Limited, contractors, an action to restrain the defendants from blasting in a reckless manner. The defendants deny that they have been negligent and careless. They also deny having, by blasting, thrown earth and rocks upon and across the tracks of the plaintiff company or upon the plaintiff's Birmingham station and platform. They also deny that the blasting is a menace to any employes of the plaintiff.

THE ZIONISTS FAIL.

Unable to Obtain from the Sultan the Kind of Concessions in Palestine They Desire.

VIENNA, Aug. 7.—Dr. Theodore Herzl, founder of the Zionist movement and head of the Palestine association, and Dr. Wolffson, president of the Jewish colonial trust, have returned here from Constantinople. They report that their conference with representatives of the sultan with reference to the proposed settlement of Zionists in Palestine have been without result.

In reply to Dr. Herzl's written statements on the subject the sultan expressed sympathy with the Jews in their purposes and named certain concessions which he would grant. These, however, did not meet the requirements of the Zionists.

Dr. Herzl says he still has hopes of being able to convince the porte of the beneficial results which would result from the settlement of Jews in Palestine.

WARY ON BEEF TRUST.

Retail Butchers Refrain from Denouncing It by Resolution.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The convention of the Retail Butchers and Meat Dealers' Protective association adjourned today. William G. Wagner of New York was elected president.

A resolution denouncing the beef trust in general terms was rejected by the committee on policy, to which it was referred. It was felt that the resolution would accomplish nothing and the object was covered in a resolution, which was adopted, to support representatives who favor abolishing the beef tax.

RUSSIA'S HINT OF RETALIATION IS WELL VEILED

Her Diplomats Decline to Say What Hostile Measures Will Be Taken.

STATUS OF SUGAR ISSUE

Czar's Government Says Contemplated Action of Brussels Conference Would Be Violation of the Favored-Nation Treaties.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 7.

Interest continues, both in diplomatic and financial circles, over the commercial war which Russia hints at in her recent note to the powers that are in the Brussels conference. The retaliation inflicted upon this country in return for an imposition of a countervailing duty on Russian sugar points to the methods to be employed by Russia if the powers in the Brussels conference carry out their intention of placing a higher duty upon Russian sugar imported into their respective countries. As yet there are no advices that the edict of the Brussels conference will be revoked or suspended and the general impression here is that it will stand, and then it will be for the Russian government to put into effect its veiled threat as shown in the note.

A careful inspection of the note was made by the writer today in the custom division of the treasury department and it was found that Russia does not state positively that it will begin a retaliatory war if the powers in the Brussels conference impose a higher duty on Russian sugar.

How the Threat Is Veiled.

The note is couched in diplomatic language, and after denying that the Russian government pays an export bounty on sugar it says that if a higher duty is applied on Russian sugar such action will be regarded by Russia as a violation of the favored-nation clause in the treaties that Russia has made with the powers in the Brussels conference. That is all.

But if these treaties are thus violated Russia will be at liberty to advance the tariffs on products from the countries which she believes have violated the treaties and thus given provocation, and naturally the increased duties will be placed on the products of which Russia imports the most.

I called upon M. Routkowsky, the Russian financial agent here, this afternoon and tried to learn from him the methods to be employed by his government when it enforces the expected retaliatory war, but he diplomatically declined to admit that Russia even contemplated such retaliation, nor would he admit that there was threat of retaliation in the note. He said his government had simply registered its protest against the proposed action against the powers in the Brussels conference, and in the note had called attention to the fact that such action would violate the reciprocity treaties between Russia and the other countries. Now his government would await the action of the Brussels conference before taking any further steps.

Bounty Under Another Name.

An examination of Russia's explanation of the alleged bounty reveals that the Russian government did pay an export bounty, although it is called by another name. Certain taxes imposed upon the production of sugar are not collected if the sugar is exported. That is, in brief, the case; but Russia explains that such a course was due solely to a desire to regulate the production and prices of the commodity, and not to any desire to increase the exportation of sugar. While such a course may not be a bounty in name, it is in reality, and it is amusing that the Russian officials expect anyone to accept their denial after this admission.

In the note Russia indicates a willingness to enter the Brussels conference if its scope is enlarged so as to take in all commercial matters, and not sugar alone.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Frank P. Sargent Gives Conservative Advice to Men on Strike.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Frank P. Sargent, United States commissioner of immigration, who until last July was grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, delivered an address this morning to the labor conference. He held up the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen as a model organization. In regard to strikes he said:

"I do not like strikes. They are dangerous, and should be employed only when all other methods fail. But they are a weapon of defense against a selfish, oppressive employer who will hold what he has accumulated and see those suffer who have helped to accumulate. My instructions to my men have always been, when you quit working for your employer go home and stay there. Be law-abiding. If he can fill your position, let him do so. Men who will keep the positions of honest, upright workmen who are striving for a principle are not of much account, and in time will give little satisfaction to their employers. When a strike is necessary put in authority men who are careful, conservative, and who will look at both sides."

Of course no such speech would be complete without a reference to the anthracite strike. He said:

"Punishment will be meted out to those who hold in their grasp that comfort which God has hidden in the hills for His children. Punishment will be meted out to them according to their deserts."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The Phillies bunched four hits on Leever in the ninth inning today and beat out Pittsburgh 3 to 2 in a game which looked like a shut-out for the home team up to the last inning.

Up to this stage Leever kept the hits well scattered, and although the Phillies had men on bases in every inning except the second and eighth, they only got one man as far as third until the fatal ninth.

Jennings was called out on strikes as a starter but Krug and White hit safely. Jacklitsch batted for Duggleby but Leever disposed of him on strikes. A wild pitch advanced the runners a peg and Thomas brought Krug home with a single to left.

Leever got himself into a hole on Wolverton and Capt. Clarke yelled from left field, "Let him walk." Leever obeyed orders, and took a chance on Barry.

Conroy's Error Costly.

Jack hit a terrific grounder at Conroy which bounded high into the air as the fielder was about to pick up the ball and although Ritchey was backing up he could not get the ball to O'Connor in time to head off the winning run, both White and Thomas coming in on the hit.

Pittsburgh scored one run in the first inning on Clarke's triple and Beaumont's sacrifice. In the fourth inning Bransfield hit for two bases and Ritchey singled.

White fumbled the latter hit, allowing Kitty to score, while Ritchey took second. Ritchey went to third on Conroy's long fly to Thomas. Smith walked but Leever was third out on a grounder to Krug.

The champions lost a man at the plate in the fifth. With two out Leech walked and stole second, and tried to score on Wagner's hit to Wolverton, but was an easy out. After that not another Pittsburgh man reached first.

Smith and Dooin Benched.

Both catchers were put out of the game in the fifth inning for disputing the decisions of Umpire O'Day on balls and strikes. Dooin went out while Leach was at bat and Douglass took his place. Smith did not like the way they were being called on Duggleby, and he also had to get out.

O'Day also threatened Jennings and Bransfield, who tried to intervene for the unfortunate catchers. When O'Connor came into the game Clarke yelled at him, "Now you keep your mouth shut." There was no more kicking after that.

Both teams fielded in fine style, White's fumble in left and Conroy's at short being the only misplays of the game, according to the official score. There were no real hard chances, though Beaumont, Wagner and Thomas made nice catches.

Bransfield made a great play in the fourth when he leaped high into the air and pulled down Leach's wild throw in time to retire Barry at first. Leach had the hardest work of any of the infielders, accepting six chances. Jennings stopped several terrific grounders at first for the Phillies, but they were straight at him.

Manager Sheitsline's new outfielder, Clay, did not show up today, but sent a telegram that he would be on hand tomorrow. He could not have done much better than White in left, the latter carrying off the batting honors of the day with three singles. White and Philippe are slated to the slab duty tomorrow.

YANKEE TOOK THE SLOOP RACE

MADE ALMOST RECORD TIME FOR NEW YORK YACHT CLUB.

The Boston Schooner Constellation Captured the Event in Large Schooner Class and Carona Won the Class B Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS., Aug. 7.—The run of the New York Yacht club cruise from Newport to this port today was made in a magnificent westerly breeze, which sent the yachts over the course of 87 miles at a fast clip and proved record breaking in the history of runs between these two ports. The Boston schooner, Constellation, covered the distance in 3.52:15, and won the race in the large schooner class.

The Corona won in class B, and the Elmina in class D. For the sloops the Yankee won in class H, the Queen Mab in class I, the Humma in class K and the Ondawa in class L.

The smaller schooners went off at 10:15, the Indra leading, and at 10:20 the large schooners were sent away with Commodore Ledyard's Corona in the van. The auxiliary yachts brought up the rear, the stately Lady Torfrida being the last of the fleet, crossing just as the time expired at 10:40. In all 55 yachts crossed the line.

The leading yachts rounded the Vineyard Sound lightship as follows:

Sloops—Yankee, 11:59:40; Alisa, 12:01:45; Mineola, 12:03:45; Rainbow, 12:05:15; Nela, 12:09:10; Queen Mab, 12:11:30; Weetamoe, 12:11:30; Humma, 12:12:30.

Schooners—Elmina, 12:08:05; Constellation, 12:06:20; Corona, 12:06:45, Muriel, 12:08:45.

Off Cuttyhunk the Corona went by the Constellation and both passed the Elmina, which dropped back to the Muriel. It was a beautiful picture, looking back up the sound, the great fleet coming along with the sails stretched off on either side, rolling now and then in the long swell that came heaving in from the ocean.

It was a great run with a great finish, and the time of the Yankee of 3 hours and 40 minutes is nearly the record time for this run of the New York Yacht club.

TECUMSEH OUTSAILED.

Canadian Yacht Trident Crossed the Finish Line Several Minutes Before American Challenger.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DORVAL, QUEBEC, Aug. 7.—The Trident, the Canadian yacht, defeated the Tecumseh, the American challenger, in the race for the Seawanhaka cup. The Trident finished at 3:31 and the Tecumseh at 3:50.

Better racing weather than that which existed during the early morning on Lake St. Louis today could not have been asked for by the yachtsmen who will contest for possession of the Seawanhaka cup. The morning broke bright and clear, but later clouded up sufficiently to obscure the hot rays of the sun.

The wind was blowing across the lake out of the northeast, foretelling a three-days' blow and at the rate of about 15 miles an hour.

The yachtsmen were greatly pleased at the outlook and both skippers expressed themselves as confident. Both yachts, the Tecumseh, the American challenger, and the Trident, the Canadian defender, were up on the ways early in the day having the finishing touches put on them prior to being measured. The Trident was slipped into the water at 9:15 and the judges went to work measuring her.

The course of today's races will be to windward or leeward and return, two miles to a leg if possible, to be sailed over three times; if not, the buoys will be placed one mile apart, the boats to sail around six times. All depends on the direction of the wind.

The course was decided on last night when Charles H. Routh, skipper of the Trident, won the toss. The crews of the two boats follow:

Trident—C. H. Routh, F. Shearwood, P. McNaughton and Angus MacDonald of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club. Tecumseh—Jones, Gates, Gates and Sherwood of the Bridgeport Yacht club.

METEOR III. WAS BEATEN.

Sybarita Captured Cowes Town Cup From Emperor William's Yacht.

COWES, Aug. 7.—In good sailing weather the Sybarita, the Meteor III. and the Tutty started today in the race for the Cowes town cup, over the Queen's course, distance 50 miles. Half of the course was finished with the Sybarita six minutes ahead of the Meteor and with the Tutty last. Sybarita finally won the race.

There were seven competitors for the royal yacht squadron prize over the same course. The Brynhild was slightly ahead of the Bona at half the distance, the Namara, the Clara, the Trex, the Creole and the Fiona following in the order named.

Six-Round Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—"Bobby" Thompson of Toronto and "Billy" Farron of this city fought six rounds tonight at the Broadway Athletic club. In the last round Farron's arm was broken and two of Thompson's ribs were fractured. Both men, however, continued in the fight until the gong sounded. They were evenly matched and gave a good exhibition of fast fighting.

JOCKEY MARTIN INJURED

He Was Thrown From Wax Candle in Last Event and Narrowly Escaped Serious Injury—Geo. Gould Has Made an Offer for String.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Five favorites were beaten this afternoon. John A. Drake's High Chancellor in the closing race being the only first choice to prove faithful to his backers.

The stake feature, the Catskill, a selling stake, was won by L. A. Waterbury's Swiftmas, which, quoted at 4 to 1, won in a romp from Belvino.

Femesole, the 2 to 1 favorite, had little speed and was beaten off. Jockey Jack Martin had a narrow escape from serious injury during the running of the last race. His mount, Wax Candle, crossed his legs in the stretch, stumbled and Martin was thrown.

Fortunately the boys on the horses running behind Wax Candle pulled out, and beyond a bruised knee Martin was unhurt.

George Gould has made Charles Hill an offer for the horses owned by Clarence Mackay. Mr. Gould is a newcomer in the racing game.

HOT AFTER WABASH.

Pennsylvania Officials Go to West Virginia to Cut Off Traffic Over Western Maryland.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Two trainloads of high railroad officials started today on a trip which is thought to have for its purpose the exclusion of the Gould interests from extending the Wabash railroad through this state as a competitor to the Pennsylvania system.

The objective point of these railroad officials was Martinsburg, W. Va., where it is proposed to establish freight connecting points to cut out the interchange of freight from the Western Maryland railroad. The plan is to handle all of the Baltimore & Ohio freight over the Cumberland Valley and Philadelphia, Harrisburg & Pittsburgh railroads into Harrisburg. This scheme will greatly increase the traffic over the two latter roads, and will necessitate an increase of 30 freight crews by each company.

The party was composed of First Vice President Theodore Voorhees, General Superintendent W. A. Garrett, Superintendent F. S. Stevens of the Philadelphia & Reading; Vice President M. P. Kennedy and Superintendent J. F. Boyd of the Cumberland Valley; General Manager Potter, General Superintendent Fitzgerald, Chief Engineer Graham of the Baltimore & Ohio and minor officials of these roads.

DEFENDS HIS COUSIN.

F. C. Andrews Says H. R. Never Got Dollar in His Life That Did Not Belong to Him.

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 7.—The cross-examination of Frank C. Andrews, who is on trial charged with misappropriating funds of the wrecked City Saving bank, was continued today by Assistant Prosecutor Merriam. Questioning Andrews as to the examination of the bank by the directors July 16, 1901, the prosecutor drew from him the statement that the collateral to the notes held by the bank was not examined.

Later in the examination Andrews was asked whether Cashier H. R. Andrews ever derived any benefit from the credits he gave him.

"I don't think Henry Andrews ever got a dollar in his life that didn't belong to him," was the reply.

By persistent questioning Assistant Prosecutor Merriam drew from Andrews an admission that none of the stock that he deposited in the City Savings bank as collateral for his overdrafts was dividend paying. Andrews stated that the checks amounting to $662,600 with which he got possession of considerable collateral from other banks in the last days of the City Savings bank were not certified.

CAPTAIN BOYCE WAS HURT

While Driving a Horse in the Course the Animal Fell, Throwing Him, Breaking an Arm and Injuring Him Internally.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, Aug. 7.—Rain at Fort Erie this afternoon necessitated postponing the finish of the 2:14 and 2:07 trots until tomorrow afternoon. The meeting was to have ended today.

The sensation of the afternoon was the defeat of The Monk by Chain Shot. Only three started and McDonald took his horse to the lead, Geers having The Monk at Chain Shot's sulky the full mile.

He could not pass the son of Red Heart, although beaten by only half a length. Dolly Dillon made a bad break, which threw her out of the race. Before the race the pools sold $50 on The Monk against $12 for the field. After the heat each end brought $50.

Gus Macey's Re-elected stands best in the summary for the 2:14 trot, having two heats to his credit. Maihorn was the contender in the first and Prince of Orange in the second heat.

The early pool selling was Alice Russell $50, field $50. Greenline had an easy victory in the 2:18 pace. There was nothing in the race to make him step. He sold a hot favorite at $50 against the field $8.

The 2:10 pace went to Don Derby in straight heats, but he was hard pressed to win. The last heat Billy H was at the head. Don Derby sold at $50 against $70 for the field.

Capt. W. H. Boyce, W. L. Snow's assistant, was badly hurt at the track today while driving a horse which fell. His arm was broken in two places and he was injured internally. A purse of over $500 was raised for him. He is well known all over the country. Summaries:

THINKS HER HUSBAND MET WITH FOUL PLAY

William Gallagher, a Riverman, Disappeared in Cincinnati and Body Found May Be His.

William Gallagher, a riverman of No. 1514 Preble avenue, Allegheny, has disappeared at Cincinnati, where he was last seen by the members of the crew of the steamer Tom Dodsworth, last Thursday, and his wife fears that he has been murdered. On Tuesday afternoon the body of an unknown man was taken from the river near the suspension bridge, at Cincinnati, and it is thought it may be the body of Gallagher.

Gallagher was a member of the Dodsworth crew and on last Thursday the members of the crew were paid off at Louisville, and the same evening they arrived in Cincinnati. Here they left Gallagher, who said he would start for Pittsburgh the next day. A number of the men of the crew, with which Gallagher went down the Ohio, have returned to Allegheny, but they could tell nothing further of his whereabouts than that they had left him in Cincinnati a week ago.

Mrs. Gallagher wrote to the police of that city and the description that she furnished of her husband, tallies with that of the unknown man found in the river. Mrs. Gallagher says that her husband has the figure of a woman tattooed on his left arm, but so far the Cincinnati authorities have not been able to bring out such a figure, if it is on the dead man's arm, as the outer skin has fallen off from the action of the water.

Mrs. Gallagher fears her husband has been murdered, because he had his month's pay with him when he reached Cincinnati, and he was not addicted to drink. An acid, which it is said will bring out tattoo marks, even after the outer flesh is gone, will be tried on the unknown man's left arm today, in the hope of identifying him.

AMERICANS WON THREE MATCHES AND LOST ONE

English Tennis Experts Were Outplayed Badly in Singles.

LARNED WAS BEATEN

He Was the Only Player to Lose. Whitman Used a New Stroke With Which Englishmen Are Unfamiliar and Could Not Solve His Play.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 7.—The team of the American lawn tennis experts successfully defended the Dwight F. Davis international challenge cup today on the courts of the Crescent Athletic club, Bay Ridge. They defeated the challenging Englishmen in the four matches of the singles by three victories, and suffered one defeat.

William A. Larned, the national champion, was the only player on the American team to succumb to the playing of the Englishmen. He was beaten by R. F. Doherty, who formerly held the championship of All-England. Malcolm D. Whitman, the unbeaten American title holder, beat Dr. Pim and R. F. Doherty. Larned's only victory was scored against Dr. Pim. Score:

First set:
R. F. Doherty	224	234	22—22— 2
W. A. Larned	541	462	44—20— 6
Second set:
Doherty	242	428	117—81— 6
Larned	404	146	449—26— 6
Third set:
Larned	540	404	120—18— 3
Doherty	424	142	444—30— 6
Fourth set:
Larned	521	445	404 9—38— 4
Doherty	344	617	140 11—41— 6
Fifth set:
Larned	424	121	604 0—24— 4
Doherty	232	444	442 4—20— 6

When Dr. Pim stepped into the court against Whitman he also began to show better form and speed than on the previous day. Whitman appeared over confident and did not go to the net. This with his slowness in getting started, is accountable for Dr. Pim getting this section of the contest. In the last set Whitman played exceptionally brilliant tennis and beat the expert at 6—Love. The complete score follows:

First set:
Whitman (American)	464	644	6—34— 6
Pim (English)	241	821	4—22— 1
Second set:
Whitman	444	244	4—26— 6
Pim	212	422	2—15— 1
Third set:
Pim	144	455	6—28— 6
Whitman	422	123	4—18— 1
Fourth set:
Whitman	444	444	24— 6
Pim	222	211	10— 0

There was even a larger gallery present at the afternoon matches than at opening of the competitions. Fully 6,000 people crowded about the courts and their applause was echoed back from the hills of Staten Island across the Narrows. Whitman and R. F. Doherty had the court to the west and Larned and Pim that at the eastern end of the field.

Tomorrow the doubles match will be played by the Doherty brothers against Whitman and Davis. The score of the Whitman-R. F. Doherty match follows:

First set:
Whitman (American)	457	456	6—37— 6
Doherty (English)	135	138	4—25— 1
Second set:
Whitman	164	422	532 464—43— 7
Doherty	442	244	354 041—37— 5
Third set:
Whitman	244	144	614 5—29— 6
Doherty	422	421	442 3—28— 4

Umpire—Oliver S. Campbell, former champion of the United States.

Though he was so easily defeated in the latter part of his match against Doherty, Larned was the favorite in his match with Dr. Pim. This contest, while not as brilliant as the struggle taking place on the opposite court, gave satisfaction to the American following, who dreaded the loss of the trophy on account of the reversal of form shown by Larned in the Doherty match.

Larned got the service and opened up brilliantly, preventing the Englishman from gaining a point in the first game. This one, with the last game in this set and one in the third, were the only love games in the match. The scores:

First set:
Larned (American)	424	742	454—36— 6
Pim (English)	052	515	260—25— 3
Second set:
Larned	165	444	44—32— 6
Pim	447	122	21—25— 2
Third set:
Larned	264	744	244—28— 6
Pim	442	562	501—29— 3

Umpire—Fred S. Mansfield.

Captain W. H. Collins, manager of the English team, made the comment that the best players had won against the flower of the English tennis courts, but he did not know whether another challenge would be made next year.

EDGEWORTH POSTPONES M'VAY CUP HANDICAP

A Sweepstake Instead Tomorrow. Fourth of Series of Foursomes on Edgewood Course.

The handicap medal play competition for the McVay cup, to have been decided today on the Edgeworth course, Sewickley, has been postponed until tomorrow, owing to the absence of many of the players from the valley. Instead an 18-hole handicap sweepstake with two ball entrance fee will be played. Christy Payne, having won the first medal contest and the match last Saturday with J. W. Dix, has now two of the three victories necessary to take the cup. He remains open to an 18-hole match with the maker of the lowest net score in the next handicap.

The fourth in a series of rattling foursomes will be played on the Edgewood Golf club course tomorrow between George Wurzell and Robert Kester on one side and Joseph Hill and W. H. Duff on the other. Three of these foursomes have thus far been played, Duff and Hill winning the first of 18 holes by 1 up, the second by 2 up and the third of 27 holes by 3 up. For the 18 holes of the last foursome on last Saturday Kester and Hill each had medal scores of 75 against the amateur record for the course of 72 strokes.

The Edgewood club has finished its match play for the summer season, having been the most active of all local clubs. The only inter-club match now scheduled for the local field before the opening of the fall schedule in September will be played on the Pittsburgh Field club course on August 30 between the home six and the team of the Westmoreland Country club.

NAPIER WON AGAIN.

Pittsburgh Chess Master Showed His Superiority Over Wolf at Hanover.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HANOVER, Aug. 7.—The chess masters engaged in the international tournament here met in the 14th round this morning, being paired as follows: Cohn vs. Mason, Gottschall vs. Swiderski, Tschigorin vs. Popiel, Pillsbury vs. Mieses, Janowski vs. Olland, Bardeleben vs. Marshall, Napier vs. Wolf, Atkins vs. Gunsberg, Levin vs. Suechting.

Six of the nine games were concluded during the morning session. Tschigorin and Atkins were the only players to score victories. Pillsbury drew a well-contested game with Mieses and took the lead by half a point pending the conclusion of Janowski's game with Olland, which was adjourned in an even position. Marshall could do no better than draw with Bardeleben, while the same result was achieved by Cohn and Mason and Levin and Suechting.

In the afternoon session Janowski overcame Olland's sturdy defense and scored the point necessary to place him in the lead, ahead of Pillsbury. Napier won a fine game from Wolf and Gottschall drew with Swiderski.

VERY interesting letters have been received from Miss Louise Elkins, who, with her sister, Miss Dot Elkins, sailed from New York, June 25, with a few friends for a five months' tour abroad. They are now in Scotland, where they will remain a few days longer and will then go to the continent. They spent July in touring through England. Their chaperone is a former teacher of Miss Louise Elkins, during her boarding school days, a year or two ago. The party will not return to America until the latter part of October.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Elkins and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Knable went a few days ago to Atlantic City, where they will probably spend the entire month. They had intended to go to Colorado the first of July, but changed their plans because of Mrs. Elkins' ill health.

Prominent Washingtonians Marry.

One of the most important of the society events of the summer season in Washington, Pa., was the wedding last night of Miss Mary Aiken and Harry E. Linn. Over 200 guests were present. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Aiken, South Main street. The house was prettily and artistically decorated, the color scheme being yellow, white and green, which was carried out with roses, carnations, ferns and smilax. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Sherrard, D. D., of Wilkinsburg, and the Episcopal service was used. The bride was unattended, except for a flower girl, her cousin, little Mary Hill, daughter of Stephen Hill, of Beallsville. Dr. Frank Linn, brother of the groom, was best man, and John Aiken, a brother of the bride, and A. C. Penn of Washington, were ushers.

The bride was given away by her brother, Lieut. Blaine Aiken. She wore a gown of embroidered muslin, made en train, with a full bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. After the wedding an elaborate dinner was served, and then Mr. and Mrs. Linn left on a wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Washington. Mrs. Linn is a daughter of the late John Aiken, formerly a leading attorney of the Washington bar. She has been a teacher in the public schools of Washington for many years. Mr. Linn is a son of the late Prof. Alonzo Linn, LL. D., of Washington & Jefferson college, and is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having served as a private in Company H, Tenth regiment, in the Philippines. At present he holds a position as clerk with the Washington Trust Company.

New Castle Society Takes to Golf.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—The New Castle Golf club will build tennis courts near the club house, beside its links. Grounds for quoit playing will also be laid out. The club has also decided to hold regular weekly afternoon teas on Saturdays, which will be society events. The golf club has arranged a series of competitive matches with other clubs. On the coming Tuesday the team of the Hermitage Golf club of Ligonier will meet the local golfers here, and on Saturday, August 16, New Castle will play Akron representatives at that place. One week later the Akron team will play a return match here, and on August 30 and September 1, New Castle and Oil City will play two matches, one of which will take place here, and the other at Oil City.

West—Campbell.

Mrs. Ellen West and Richard W. Campbell were married last night at the home of Jesse Hodgson in James street, Verona. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jesse P. Martin of the First United Presbyterian church, Verona, in the presence only of immediate relatives and friends. The bride wore white mousseline de soie, over liberty silk, and carried bride's roses. Miss Laura Kent of Cleveland played Lohengrin's wedding march.

The former home of the bride was in Indiana, Pa., but for two years she has been living with her sister, Mrs. Hodgson in Verona. The bridegroom is a well-known young man of Verona. After a wedding trip the couple will be at home to their friends, September 1, in Verona, where a newly furnished home awaits them.

Gone Home to Illinois.

Miss Nettie D. Ellsworth of Ottawa, Ill., left last evening for her home. Miss Ellsworth has been spending the last three weeks with Mrs. W. L. Lindsley and her sister, Miss Albert, in Homewood. She is a talented musician and is known among music teachers in Chicago and in the east as the inventor of a kindergarten method of teaching music to children, which has proven very successful wherever it has been tried. Miss Ellsworth was invited to give a demonstration of her method before the National Music Teachers' association in New York this summer, and on her way home has been visiting in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Lindsley gave a small informal tea in her honor on Wednesday afternoon.

Closing of the Vacation Schools.

The work of the club women who have had charge of the vacation schools this summer is drawing to a close. All the vacation schools and all but six of the playgrounds, close today, the six playgrounds remaining open another week. At all of the schools a treat will be given the children, ice cream and cake having been provided by those in charge.

Yesterday morning the children of the Duquesne vacation school had a trolley ride to Kennywood park, under the direction of Miss Mary E. Stevenson of Aiken avenue, and Mrs. H. F. Coleberry of Avalon.

Fancy Dress Ball at Bellefonte.

A leading society event at Bellefonte, Pa., last night was a fancy dress and masked ball given by some of the most prominent women of the town, headed by Mrs. M. Burnett, daughter of the late ex-Gov. A. G. Curtin, for the benefit of the new Bellefonte hospital. The event took place in the armory. A score of society women were patronesses for the occasion and quite a handsome sum of money was realized.

Ping-Pong at the Y. W. C. A.

An innovation in the assembly and reading room of the Central Young Women's Christian association in Fifth street is a ping-pong table. A large dining room table has been utilized for the game and with the low net stretched across it, is an attractive addition to the equipment of the rooms. Every evening it is surrounded by a bevy of young women, who try their skill at the popular game.

Music at the Country Club.

The American Military band gave a concert last evening at the Country club in the Beechwood boulevard. The coolness of the evening prevented many from driving out to the club house and the attendance was smaller than at the last concert given there by the same band. Many of the members of the club and their families are still away from home at the summer resorts.

Luncheon in Sewickley.

Miss Elsie Linn was hostess at a pretty little luncheon at her home in Nevin avenue, Sewickley, yesterday. It was a 1 o'clock affair and covers were laid for six. Those present were Miss Ida Jackson, the Misses Peters, Miss Ethel Ritchey and Miss Margaret Ritchey.

A Watermelon Party.

Miss Alma Brush was hostess at a "Watermelon party" last evening at her home in Hill street, Sewickley. About 30 young people were present, and an enjoyable evening was spent with games, music and refreshments.

Miss Daisy Dauler and Miss Bessie Dauler have been at Atlantic City.

Dr. and Mrs. I. R. Tann of Crafton left yesterday morning for Belmar, N. J., to be gone until the first of September.

The Rev. Dr. L. C. Barnes and Mrs. Barnes are in Oswego, N. Y. They will spend some time at Chautauqua and later go to Michigan.

Vegetable Breakfast Dishes for Hot Weather.

When planning the mid-summer breakfast do not confine yourself to the tiresome, everlasting meat dishes which have become all too familiar during the greater part of the year when the appetite can better relish such strong foods if they are deemed necessary.

The summer gives us so many vegetable products which may be utilized and made to take the place of meats, which are served too frequently in the average household; old and young and the middle-aged eating the same quantity without the least thought regarding it other than the idea that meat being considered one of the important foods in sustaining life, must be eaten in order to maintain the proper degree of health and physical strength. We do not, fortunately, depend on meat alone for the most important element of food, for the nourishment of brain, nerves and muscles, but highly vitalized and nutritious tissues of the body may be supplied by food stuffs differing widely in every sense apart from their ability to furnish in superabundance the nitrogenous element which is the one great essential.

A dish of well-cooked wheat preparation of some kind, with the addition of sugar and cream, makes fresh meat for breakfast entirely superfluous. Following the cereal the appetite craves something especially "tasty;" fresh meat dishes will not satisfy this desire, but there are many vegetables such as tomatoes, egg plant, corn, etc., that may be made into very tempting dishes to invite and gratify the lagging appetite, and they are alike suitable for the sultry, enervating morning or when a sudden change in temperature gives just enough keenness in the air to make one relish a hot dish.

Simplicity of diet should be the one thing aimed at in hot weather for health's sake and in consideration for the cook.

The simplest foods are, as a rule, the most healthful. Variety may be obtained with these as with any other meals, but too great a variety at a meal should be avoided, as this furnishes a temptation to overeat, which creates a great deal of discomfort and invariably more serious results. You should seek variety from day to day in a few wholesome and nutritious foods, and not in too great a variety at each meal.

Eggplant Fritters.

Put a small eggplant into a boiler well filled with salted water. Do not peel the plant. Add a tablespoonful of vinegar to the water and cook 20 minutes; then take out and drain, peel and mash. To a pint of eggplant pulp add half a cup of flour, two beaten eggs and salt and pepper to taste. Form into small oval cakes and fry in deep fat, browning on both sides.

Corn Drops.

One quart of corn cut from the cob and free from the husks; add three well-beaten eggs, a tablespoonful of sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Stir in two ounces of butter melted and mix thoroughly together. Drop into small buttered cups and bake in a moderate oven half an hour.

Fried Bananas.

Select fine ripe fruit, peel and cut each banana in two crosswise. Sprinkle lightly with salt and dip in beaten egg, then roll in fine bread crumbs. Cook a delicate brown in deep hot fat. Serve with a rich fruit sauce.

Sauce for Bananas.

Put a cup of boiling water in a saucepan, with a cup of sugar and two ounces of butter, moisten the cornstarch in a little cold water and stir into the boiling syrup. Add half a cup of minced dried fruit and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Boil a few minutes and serve.

Cucumber Fritters.

Pare and grate three large tender cucumbers, squeeze the juice from the pulp and to a pint of the pulp add a cup of cream, a tablespoonful of white pepper and the beaten yolks of four eggs, then the beaten whites folded in. The batter should be very thick. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat and fry crisp and brown. Serve as you would fried oysters.

Fried Cucumbers.

Pare and cut the cucumbers lengthwise in thin slices. Lay them out on a cloth and wipe dry; season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour and fry brown as you would tomatoes.

Fried Tomatoes.

Wash half a dozen or more large, firm, ripe tomatoes and cut them in halves without peeling them. Dredge with flour and lay in a frying pan in which you have heated some butter. Place the tomatoes with the cut side down to prevent the juice from running out. Cover for 10 minutes. Remove the cover and sprinkle with a small spoonful of salt, add a little pepper and fry until both sides are a rich brown, but do not allow to burn. Serve with a cup of cream gravy.

Broiled Tomatoes.

Select ripe but firm tomatoes of equal size, cut in halves, place in a greased, fine-wired broiler and grill gently over a clear fire for about eight minutes, according to size. Broil the stem end first. Serve hot on toast with a little good hot cream poured over them.

Vegetable Hash.

To a quart of finely sliced tomatoes add a chopped carrot, one red beet, a small turnip and stalk of celery, all cooked. Put all into a saucepan, cover closely and place in the oven; when hot pour over them a cup of scalded cream, stir and cook until it is boiling hot, then serve.

Potato Puff.

Mix a cup of cold mashed potatoes, free from lumps, with half a cup of cream and the well beaten yolks of one egg. Season to suit the taste. Beat to a smooth fluff, add the whites of the eggs beaten to a froth. Heap up roughly in a baking dish and bake in a quick oven until very hot and nicely browned.

Potato Cakes With Eggs.

Bake medium-sized potatoes until perfectly tender, peel and mash smooth. To each pint of potato allow the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs which have been rubbed perfectly smooth through a sieve. Add half a cup of rich milk. Season to taste with salt and pepper and form into small cakes; place them on buttered tins and bake in a hot oven until a golden brown.

Eggs Poached in Tomatoes.

Take a pint of stewed and sieved tomatoes and season to suit the taste and heat. When they just begin to boil slip in carefully, without breaking, six eggs. Keep the tomatoes just below the boiling point until the eggs are cooked. Carefully lift the whites as they cook until they are firm, then pick the yolks and let the yellow run into the tomato. When done the mixture should be quite soft and showing the three colors quite distinctly. Serve on toast. A little onion may be used or the dish rubbed with garlic.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. H. C. N. writes: Will you kindly oblige me with a recipe for cucumbers stuffed with marrow?

Cucumbers Stuffed With Marrow.

Peel six large cucumbers, split them lengthwise and scoop out the seeds with a spoon. Mix with the seed and pulp thus removed, equal quantity of bread crumbs and chopped marrow and season well with salt and pepper. Stuff the cucumbers with this forcemeat, place the halves together and fasten with a wooden skewer. Place them in an earthen dish large enough to hold them and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour or until they are tender. Remove the skewers and serve the cucumbers very hot with a brown gravy or cream sauce, in which you have squeezed a little lemon juice.

THE FOOD OF THE ROMAN SOLDIER.

The grand old Roman warriors, who won many victories, subsisted chiefly on wheat carried in their knapsacks and parched when needed for use. The healthfulness of wheat as a food has been greatly depreciated by modern milling processes that remove the life-sustaining gluten in order to make flour white. Many seek to remedy this evil by eating cracked wheat or mush. In this form the starch is less than half cooked. The result is indigestion, anemia, constipation, nervous prostration, weak muscles, rheumatism and other maladies. For complete nutrition, the whole grain must be eaten. Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, presents wheat in an entirely new form, each entire kernel being pressed into a thin, delicate flake, thoroughly dextrinized, cooked and toasted, making it immediately digestible.

RIGHT THINKING AND INTEGRITY IN WORLD'S WORK

Advice of President Roosevelt to Negro Young People's Christian Congress.

RELIGIOUS LIFE OF RACE

General Subject for Discussion at Morning Session—Bishops Walden and Joyce Make Farewell Addresses—Many Other Features.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 7.—Strong addresses delivered by prominent leaders of the race made interesting today's session of the Negro Young People's Christian and Educational congress. One of the features of today's meeting was the following letter from President Roosevelt:

"Corresponding Secretary, Young People's Christian and Educational Congress:

"My Dear Sir:

"Your letter of recent date, referring to the proposed negro Young People's congress, to be held in Atlanta August 6 to 11, 1902, has been received. I very much regret it will not be possible for me to attend, but I take pleasure in sending to the congress, through you, greetings and best wishes for its success, inculcating in the younger people of your race principles of right thinking, of unswerving integrity and of thoroughness in whatever part they may take in the world's work.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Two Bishops Say Farewell.

An interesting feature of today's session was the farewell talk of the delegates of the Methodist Episcopal church, Bishops John M. Walden of Cincinnati and Isaac W. Joyce of Minneapolis.

The general subject for discussion during the morning was "The Religious Life of the Race." The first paper was on "The Present Religious Status of the Negroes in the United States," by the Rev. Ernest Lyon of Baltimore, who indignantly denied the statements that the negro had no religious status. Being a man, he said, he is a religious being.

Dr. Lyon claimed for the negro what he termed the six elements of religion: Humility, patience, endurance, forgiveness, charity and brotherly love. Measured by these standards, the negro was religious.

Speaking of lynching, he said:

"The negro has been lynched and his body used as fagots for bonfires, but there is no record in the courts charging the negro with leading a mob against his persecutors, or to putting a torch even to the homes of his enemies."

Negro Not an Anarchist.

"The negro," he said, "is a friend of law and order. He is neither a striker, a socialist nor an anarchist."

The Rev. George E. Morris of Morristown, N. J., spoke on the "Ante-Bellum Religious Life of the Race."

In an original poem, the Rev. D. Webster Davis of Richmond, Va., declared that the negro must fight his own ignorance and sin more than the hate and prejudice without.

In a paper on "The True and False in the Revival of the Methods of the Race," the Rev. A. C. Gardner of Washington, D. C., said most of the negroes' troubles grew out of emotionalism, which was not spiritual power.

COURT MARTIAL CONVENES

Case Against C. W. Penrose at Erie Delayed by Absence of Counsel, Major Waller.

ERIE, PA., Aug. 7.—The court-martial called to try Charles W. Penrose, assistant paymaster United States navy and attached to the United States ship Michigan, at this port, convened shortly after 11 o'clock today. Following is the detail of the court: Commander Perry Garst, Pay Inspector Reah Frazer, Lieutenant Commander William F. Halsey, Lieut. Edward F. Leiper, Lieut. W. H. Chambers, Paymaster E. W. Bonnaffon and Paymaster Joseph Fife, with Paymaster E. B. Rogers as judge advocate.

Maj. L. W. T. Waller, marine corps, of Philippine fame, is expected to defend the accused. He had not arrived when the court convened, but will be here Saturday.

The charges against Penrose are rendering fraudulent returns of balances to his credit, embezzlement, scandalous conduct, absence from station and duty, negligence in obeying orders. The alleged shortage is $800.

At 11:40, at request of H. L. Mooré, junior counsel for the accused, the court adjourned until tomorrow to await arrival of the senior counsel, who is at Warm Springs, Va.

BOOM IN L. & N.

Visit of Belmont, Spencer & Gates to Morgan's Office Regarded as Very Important.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The unusual strength and activity of Louisville & Nashville shares today gave rise to a variety of rumors, the substance of which was that the trouble which grew out of the attempt to corner the stock last spring had been settled in a way satisfactory to all concerned. These rumors were confirmed in part by persons in authority, but nothing like a definite statement on the subject was obtainable.

August Belmont, chairman of the Louisville & Nashville road, and Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railway, conferred with representatives of J. P. Morgan & Co. today, and the return to town of John W. Gates, coupled with his protracted visit to Morgan & Co.'s office, was regarded important.

Coincident with the movement in Louisville & Nashville was the sharp rise in Illinois Central, Hocking Valley issues and Nashville & Chattanooga. So far as surface indications went nothing developed to connect the movement in these stocks with the reported settlement in Louisville & Nashville.

STILL LIONIZING KRUGER.

The Former President Visits the Pro-Boer Exhibition at The Hague.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 7.—Ex-President Kruger of the Transvaal republic, accompanied by a number of Boer leaders, visited the pro-Boer exhibition this morning. He seated himself opposite the portraits of the Dutch and French combatants who fell during the war, and as he sat there young girls strewed flowers at his feet.

Replying to a speech made by the president of the exhibition Mr. Kruger paid a high tribute to the "brave men who sacrificed their lives in a disinterested struggle for justice."

The Season at Its Height.

Each Tuesday, Friday and Saturday during August the Pennsylvania railroad will sell 15-day excursion tickets, Pittsburgh to all Chautauqua lake points and return, at rate of $8.

Trains leave Union station at 9 a. m. and 10:45 p. m., eastern standard time. Pullman buffet parlor cars on morning train and Chautauqua lake sleeping car on evening train.

TRAIN HANGS MAN ON A BIG SPIKE.

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Andrew Liepji, while crossing the railroad bridge where the new viaduct is being erected. Seeing an eastbound train approaching he stepped to the westbound track and was struck by a train and thrown into the trestlework of the new bridge. His clothing caught on a spike and he was found hanging there later by trainmen. He was unharmed except for a few cuts and bruises.

"LONG LIVE SISTERS! DOWN WITH MINISTRY"

French Villagers Throw Themselves Before Feet of Horses of Soldiers Sent to Evict Nuns.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BREST, FRANCE, Aug. 7.—Exciting scenes occurred today at the expulsion of a number of sisters from their school at Landerneau, near here. A special train conveyed detachments of soldiers to Landerneau, where a body of gendarmes had been mobilized already. A large crowd assembled at the school and surrounded the soldiers in the square in front of the school. When the commissary of police arrived, accompanied by a locksmith, the people protested vigorously, shouting:

"Long live the sisters and liberty!" "Down with the ministry!"

Women threw themselves to the ground in front of the horses of the gendarmes. The commissary ordered the sisters to open the school door. They refused, and the locksmith picked the lock and broke windows, amid the denunciations of the crowd. The commissary ordered the sisters to leave the school, which they did. Leaning on the arms of the townswomen and accompanied by the priests and thousands of people they marched to a church, where they sang a hymn. A large crowd followed the gendarmes to the railroad station, shouting: "Death to the locksmith!" The man was protected by the military.

Vicomte Lagatinais, leader of the opposition, cried:

"You can arrest me; my ancestors died on the scaffold, and I deem it an honor to be arrested for this noble cause."

A few women were hurt in the disorder.

The commissary at Crozon tried to expel the sisters from a school, but the gendarmes were unable to force their way through the crowd and the attempt was abandoned.

Similar scenes are expected in other villages of Finisterre, where the decree against unauthorized schools is to be put into execution. A priest at Folgoet urged women to kneel in front of the school in order to stop the gendarmes.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN COKE PRODUCTION

Connellsville Region Still Hampered by Lack of Transportation Facilities—Figures for Week.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 7.—Of the coke trade of the Connellsville and Lower Connellsville region, the Courier will say tomorrow: Coke production in the Connellsville region last week was a few tons in excess of the tonnage of the previous week, but the output in shipments was less. If cars and motive power could be furnished by the railroads production in this region would not be less than 250,000 tons a week from now until after the first of the year. Combining the output of the two regions, Connellsville and Lower Connellsville, 300,000 tons of coke a week are being made.

The Courier's detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending August 2 shows a total of 21,495 ovens in the region of which 20,661 were active. The total estimated production was 250,238 tons, compared with 249,615 tons the previous week. The shipments aggregated 11,573 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 3,558 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,661 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,354 cars. This was a decrease of 204 cars. In the Lower Connellsville region there are a total of 3,336 ovens.

The active list of ovens in the Lower Connellsville district will be further increased next week, when over 100 ovens of the Riverside Coal and Coke Company will be included with the ovens in this district. The active number of ovens in the region last week was 3,218. The estimated tonnage was 42,214 tons, compared with 38,848 tons the previous week. Shipments were 841 cars, compared with 874 cars the previous week.

HELD THE CHECKS.

Imported Men Have Trouble Getting Baggage After Refusal to Work.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Trouble broke out here today on the arrival from Chicago of 12 non-union men, brought by the Pennsylvania engineering works to fill the places of striking machinists. When the men found a strike was in progress they refused to go to work.

They went to the railroad station for their baggage, but it was refused, as the checks were held by a representative of the engineering company. He refused to give them up, until ordered to do so by Chief of Police Horner.

Two Damage Suits Filed.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Two damage suits, aggregating $35,000, have been filed against the Lake Erie railroad and the New Castle and Lowell line. G. H. Barnes, until recently a Lake Erie brakeman, asks $30,000 for being knocked off a freight train near Edinburg, by an overhead bridge. Henry Rupp, who was injured in the street car collision on the Fourth of July at Edinburg, asks $5,000.

THE POPULAR RESIDENCE SECTION OF BRADDOCK.

Soles Park, the Most Commanding Site for a Home—A Virtual Beauty Spot—Best Lots at Low Prices and on Easy Terms.

With a plan of lots like Soles Park, the borough of Braddock has now a residence section that compares favorably with that of any city in the state of Pennsylvania. Soles Park, as it is called, is delightfully situated on the northerly side of Braddock, overlooking the Monongahela river. It lies, therefore, within sight and easy walking distance of the world's greatest mills and workshops. The lots in the Soles Park plan are entirely level. Their location makes them choice home sites, and by reason of this elevation, are free from dust and smoke issuing from the gigantic mills. Soles Park is unquestionably the finest place for a home—it the place for the business man, the place for the workman, the place for the speculator, and, in short, the place for everybody. Any public, clerk or professional man, residing within the busy circle of the Monongahela valley, cannot find a more agreeable location. Touched and bounded by electrical and steam railways it is readily reached from any point of the county.

This commanding strip of property will be placed on sale Saturday, August 9. The lots range in value from $300 to $500, and are, therefore, within reach of all. From an investment standpoint it may be stated that Soles Park lots are most inviting. Lots adjoining the plan have increased over 900 per cent within seven years, and it is quite reasonable to presume that Soles Park lots will exceed this figure within less time. In brief, it is an absolutely legitimate sale of choice residence property by the owner, Mr. D. S. Elliott. Make the coming Saturday a day of profit. Go out to Soles Park early and look over the situation. Take Pennsylvania railroad, East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg, or Braddock cars of yellow line, and get off at Copeland station, and then walk up Fourth street, just a short distance from the plan.

MANY RAILROADS LOOK TO EUROPE FOR 1903 RAILS

American Mills So Tied Up With Orders That Importation Is Necessary.

INCREASING TRACK ROOM

Zinc and Lead Combinations Nearing Achievement—Rapid Growth of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad System.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 7.—An official of a large steel rail mill today confirmed the report that certain railroads are unable to secure rails for delivery in the early part of next year, and as a result will be compelled to place orders for a portion of their requirements abroad. There is no getting around the fact that the output of the rail mills next year will fall short of requirements, as a result of which a considerable amount of rails will be imported from Europe.

The Lackawanna Steel Company, on account of the change in its location from Scranton to Buffalo, will produce a comparatively small tonnage next year, and this, to a large extent, will offset the increased tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation and other companies. The steady operation of steel rail mills is practically assured for next year. It is understood that the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific companies have placed an order for 100,000 tons of steel rails with foreign manufacturers, and that other big orders for European railmakers are pending.

Increasing Yard Facilities.

A manufacturer said:

"The extraordinary demand for steel rails is due largely to the action on the part of the railroads in increasing their side-trackage. The railroads for months past have not been able to take care of the big tonnage consigned to them for delivery, and this difficulty will become more acute when they are called upon to move grain and cotton. As a result of this increased business the railroads must have more sidings. All the rail mills of the country are being operated to the utmost of their respective capacities. This also applies to the European mills, particularly Germany. Rails will continue to come into this country in large volume until the mills here are in a position to supply the deficiency. Liberal premiums are being offered to foreign manufacturers for spot rails. Sales are now being made for delivery in the third and fourth quarters of next year."

The Zinc Combination.

The deal involving a combination of a number of zinc properties in the Missouri district has been practically completed. It was said today that the company will be incorporated in New Jersey in a short time; also, that the United States Steel Corporation, which is one of the largest consumers of zinc in the country, will be represented in the directorate. What the capital stock of the combination will be, could not be learned today, although it was said it would be considerably in excess of $20,000,000.

It was currently reported in metal circles today that an effort is being made to induce the New Jersey Zinc Company, which is capitalized at $10,000,000 and has a bond issue of $4,000,000, to become a constituent property of the combine. This report could not be confirmed, although it is said the combination will have practical control of the zinc industry.

Combining the Lead Companies.

It was admitted today that negotiations have been entered into for the purchase of a controlling interest in the National Lead Company by Thomas F. Ryan, the Guggenheim Exploration Company and others, who are planning a consolidation of the principal mining properties and lead manufacturing concerns in the United States. It is said the deal is nearer accomplishment than several weeks ago. The fact that an attempt was being made to consolidate the lead interests of the country was first announced last May. It was then reported that the National Lead Company and the Union Lead & Oil Company, the latter concern being controlled by Thomas F. Ryan interests, were in the deal. The combination will be closely allied with the American Smelting & Refining Company interests, which control the Guggenheim Exploration Company.

C. & E. I Changes Owners.

The official announcement of the purchase of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois by the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad has been issued to the stockholders of the two companies. Through the purchase the Frisco secures a direct entrance into Chicago, and becomes a small granger railroad, which was considered so unimportant that it was not included in the reorganization of the Atchison, it now becomes one of the most prominent western railroad systems. The manner in which the St. Louis & San Francisco has developed during the last two years is remarkable. Including the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the mileage now controlled is around 4,500. The management has definitely decided to build to El Paso and to Galveston. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—An Alaska correspondent writes that work in the Nome district is of a permanent character. Spring clean-ups from winter diggings yielded remarkably well and the total output of gold will largely exceed that of last year. Important operations are under way by strong companies.

A ditch 17 miles long is being built by the Miocene Company from Osborne creek to Anvil and Dexter, and the Hot Air Company has finished a ditch from Divinity creek to its rich glacier bench. The most important enterprise, however, is that of the Wild Goose Company, which has erected an immense pumping plant on Snake river at a cost of $500,000.

Five tons of high-grade cobalt ore were shipped from the Standard-Quartzburg district, Gem, last week to Germany to illustrate the value of Oregon mines that produce ore of this class, which is partly free milling and concentrating. The ore assayed $100 to the ton. Additional shipments will be made and the ore to the ton is reported in the Little Monster, near Marcus, Wash.

In the Nevada-Okanogan district, Wash., a blind ledge 12 feet in width and assaying across the face $32 a ton, has been uncovered.

A scheme of development for the Republic in the Washington camp of that name has been instituted. All the tunnels will be reopened and the entire property is to be thoroughly prospected.

Capitalists of Massachusetts and Missouri have acquired the Blue Bell property, Bear Lake district, Utah. It includes the well-known O. K.

The Gladstone, near Pioneer, Mont., is to be equipped with a 25-stamp plant capable of treating 30 tons of ore daily.

In sinking a well on the Oro Fino, Shasta county, Cal., a ten-inch vein of quartz streaked with gold was cut. Assays show $200 to the ton.

The Nelgold properties at Silverton, Col., have resumed shipping, sending out three carloads to the Selby smelter the latter part of last week.

The Metal Market.

Slack demand for both tin and copper today resulted in lowering prices materially on several grades. In tin values settled 25 points here and 7s 6d in London, with the local spot price declining to $28.25@28.75, and this English figures at £127 2s 6d for spot and £125 2s 6d for futures. Copper ruled easy here. Standard closed at $11 15@11 40; lake, $11 75@11 95; electrolytic, $11 70@11 90; casting, $11 65@11 75. London closed dull, spot closing at 55s 11s 3d for spot and £52 15s for futures. Lead remained as last quoted and quiet in the local market. Spot closed at $4 32½. London advanced 1s 3d to £11 2s 6d. On a good demand spelter stiffened up 7½ points today and closed firm at $5 45. London remained unchanged at £18 15s. Offerings of pig iron were limited and the little market presented is in assortments at the changed prices. No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00; No. 2 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00. Warrants were not quoted. English markets showed improvement. Glasgow closed at 56s 2d and Middlesboro at 51s 1½d.

Some Good Advances in Wall Street

SOME LEADING STOCKS STRONG, OTHERS WEAK

Violent Movements Are Recorded in Few Securities Usually Obscure.

PENNSYLVANIA ON RISE

Given Strength in Sympathy With Hocking Valley Developments. Missouri Pacific Stands Hard Pounding and Heavy Sales.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 7.—There was a further expansion in the volume of trading in today's stock market and the same kind of irregular strength which was shown yesterday. There were points of weakness in the market, in spite of the marked strength of the most conspicuous stocks, and there were a still larger number of important stocks which did not respond to the advance and were simply dull and neglected throughout the session. There were violent movements in some usually obscure stocks, but in some also which are always active and prominent the prices fluctuated ½ or a full point between transactions. It took but two transactions to lift Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern 15 points, following a 25-point rise yesterday. This was the result of the announcement by the protective committee of minority stockholders that they had secured an offer of a higher price for the outstanding minority stock unassented to the plan of exchange with Rock Island. Other controlled stocks which seemed to be affected in sympathy were Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, the Kanawha & Michigan and the New York, Chicago & St. Louis stocks.

Rise Is Unexplained.

The Hocking Valley stocks and Louisville & Nashville moved upwards with almost equal violence, but with no specific development to explain the movements. The rise in Illinois Central had in its favor excellent reports of gross earnings for July and net earnings for June. There were large dealings in various southern and southwestern stocks, but the resulting price movement was irregular. Missouri Pacific was under considerable pressure, declining at one time 1⅝, while Texas & Pacific, on the other hand, continued to advance. The large buying of Southern railway was without much effect on the price. The weakness of Manhattan was attributed to fears of a strike by engineers and motormen. The rise in Pennsylvania and its subsidiary coal carriers was apparently in sympathy with the Hocking Valley movement. National Lead was reported in demand for some large financial interests.

Mystery in the Rise.

There was not much in the general situation upon which to base a rise in prices, since the news showed little change in conditions, which continued favorable to values. The sub-treasury is absorbing a considerable sum from the money market, but the premium on New York exchange at Chicago indicates that the tide of currency is still flowing this way. Foreign exchange is firm, but the very strong return made today by the Bank of France reflects the accumulation of resources at that capital and the unlikelihood of further pressure from there for gold or for repayment of loans. London showed encouragement over the evidences of the improved condition of the king of England and bought some stocks. The buoyancy of a few stocks continued to the close, which was active and steady.

Central of Georgia bonds were the only feature of the bond market, which was otherwise dull and irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,145,000. United States 3s declined ½ per cent on call.

Pittsbgh Coal Common Was Aga Quite Active, but legular in Price.

PITTSBURGH TRUST BOOM

An eric Trust and Safe Deposit and Tru 3 Lower—The Steel Stocks We Dull and Narrow — Fire Proog Common Declined.

The feat on the Pittsburgh stock exchanges yesterday was generally dull and somwhat irregular in tone. The sales owed an increase, but the tradings was confined to a very few issues of the close was about at the duiless. A feature of the day's doings was the fact that several of the more recent favorites were passed without a sale of any kind, and also with but a verimali place in the bids and offers. A conspicuous issue because of it was American Window Glass common, which closed about steady at 62 bid and 62½ asked. This is the first time in weeks that the stock has gone through a session without a trade. The preferred is firmer at 93½ bid, with no offers under 94½. United States Steel preferred was also given the "go by," offering at 90 without a bid. Pittsburgh Brewing common was in the same class, being steady at practically unchanged at 28¾ bid and ⅝ asked. Federal National bank offered 1½ lower at 140¾, but the best bid was 139½. Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust fared worse, not even getting a quitation, though a broker did ask what he could get for 20 shares. In the sales of chief activity was again in Pittsburgh Coal common, over 1,900 shares changing hids. The price opened at 28½, advanced to 28¾, and then broke to 28. Later it rallied and closed at 28⅛, the same as Wednesday. The final bid was 28⅝, with 500 shares offering at 28¾. The preferred sold 300 shares and closed ⅛ lower at 90⅜, more offering. River Coal preferred was a shade easier and ⅛ lower at 39⅝. The common was only nominally quoted. The feature of the banking group was in Pittsburgh Trust Company, which sold at 635, and then at 637½, a gain of $35 50 between sales. The price is a new high record, the previous high point having been 607½. American Trust Company was sold by an inside house at 125 for a block of 280 shares, a drop of $3. This is the largest single trade ever made in a local trust company stock on the exchange. Safe Deposit and Trust Company was $3 lower at 197, though 108 was bid at the close. The steel issues were very dull, the only thing of interest being a showing of strength by Crucible Steel preferred, which advanced ¼ to 86½ on light trading. Fire Proofing common developed weakness and on sales of 258 shares closed with a loss of ¼ at 31½. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 39¾. Brewing preferred advanced ⅛ to 47¼, and Pressed Steel Car common lost ⅛ at 47¼. Brewing bonds rallied to 112¼ bid. Westinghouse Airbrake was $1 lower at 184. There was nothing else worthy of notice.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the preceding sales; the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

Messler and others, and were conveyed to Mrs. Lanahan through the agency of the Real Estate Trust Company. The lots have a combined frontage of 40 feet in the south side of Penn avenue and a depth of 110 feet. Two three-story brick houses now occupy the sites.

The purchase was made for an investment and is at the rate of $1,625 a foot for the Penn avenue frontage. Directly across the avenue from these lots is the building of the Pittsburgh Drygoods Company and the new building of Pickering's is going up only a few doors above them.

Sale Included 275 Lots.

The largest deal in frontage in the east suburbs of Pittsburgh was reported yesterday and involves about $50,000. The property in question consists of 275 lots adjoining the borough of East Pittsburgh on the south, and facing in the Greensburg pike. The lots were bought from the Pennsylvania Land & Improvement Company by F. B. Tomb, of Wilkinsburg. They measure 25x100 feet each.

The property is situated on the hill top commanding a fine view of East Pittsburgh and the Westinghouse interests. A project is now being considered by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to build a bridge across Turtle creek, connecting the new line to be built in Linden avenue, with East Pittsburgh. This will pass through this property and add considerably to its value. Mr. Tomb is preparing to replot the frontage and put it on the market.

Three City Deals.

J. H. O'Donnell has secured the signatures in three deals amounting to $40,000. For E. B. McAbee he sold one of the latter's new residences at the corner of Homewood avenue and Dalzell place, Twenty-second ward, for $20,000. The house is a 12-room colonial brick and stands on a lot, 40x120 feet. The purchaser is a business man whose name was withheld. The second deal was the sale to Mr. McAbee of four lots, 50x140 feet each, for $15,000. Two of the lots are situated in Homewood avenue and two in Dalzell avenue. The purchaser will improve them at once by the erection of four brick houses to cost $12,000 each. Mr. O'Donnell also sold for Mrs. Mary Coyle to C. B. Linderman, a double frame house on a lot 43x92 feet, in Wylie avenue, near Morgan street, for $12,000.

The deeds were registered yesterday, conveying from D. H. Wallace and D. Herbert Hostetter to W. D. George, and in turn from him to the Pittsburgh Dry Goods Company, two properties, 60x420 feet, in the north side of Penn avenue, near Fourth street, extending through to Duquesne way, for $190,000. This is the site on which the Pittsburgh Drygoods Company will build its six-story warehouse, plans for which are now being drawn by Architects Rutan & Russell. The cost is estimated at $250,000.

Going Into the Trust.

The formal transfer was recorded yesterday of two properties which are to become the property of the United States Cigar Company, the new $15,000,000 combination which has been financed by the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company. Both deeds were made out to the W. W. Stewart Company, which is one of the constituent companies of the trust. One of them was for the property of the Collins Cigar Company, a plot 100x100 feet, located at the southwest corner of Twenty-eighth and Smallman streets. The second deed recorded was the transfer of the property of Albert D. Zeugschmidt. This lot is 24x109 feet, and is situated at the northwest corner of Wylie avenue and Townsend street, Eighth ward. The consideration in each deed was nominal.

Through the agency of George Schmidt & Son, August Flicker has sold to J. G. Newman 40 lots in Carnegie, for $12,000. The lots measure 25x100 feet each, and face Idlewood, Park and Noblestown avenues. The purchaser will build 10 frame houses, to cost $2,000 each, and place the remainder of the lots on the market.

Sewickley Farm Sale.

It is reported on good authority that the Fine farm of 60 acres, in the Sewickley heights district, has been sold for $800 an acre, and that the preliminary papers in the transaction have already been drawn. The farm faces the Watson road, adjoins the C. C. Scaife holdings and is two farms farther out from Sewickley than the property of Dr. B. M. Hanna.

The county engineers are attempting to secure signatures of property owners who property abuts the Blackburn road between Glenfield and the Blackburn church, to releases from all damage claims, in order that the road may be completed. So far the release has been signed by all but four property owners, and they are likely to come into the fold. This means the continuation of the road from the Glenfield borough line to Blackburn church and the McGee farm. At the old church th. Watson road branches, one portion running to Glenfield, and the other following Lowrie's run over to connect with the Allegheny boulevard.

A Divorce Is Recommended for Emma C. Phillips Wife of Pittsburgh Fireman.

The master in the divorce suit of Emma C. Phillips against her husband, John P. C. Phillips, recommends the granting of a divorce. The respondent is a member of the Pittsburgh fire department. The plaintiff avers that he has a vicious, overbearing temper and disposition.

She states that she was unable to please him with his meals. When she cooked eggs he wanted oatmeal and when she cooked oats he wanted eggs. She alleges that once their 14-year-old son prevented the respondent from making a fatal attack upon her. Once, she says, he threatened to kill the boy. The libelant avers she did not deserve his brutal treatment.

WANTS DAMAGES FOR ARREST.

Mary Salmon Intitutes a $5,000 Suit Against Policeman Peter Welsh.

Mary Salmon, by Attorney Alexander E. Goss, sued Policeman Peter Welsh for $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant while arresting her brother, Thomas Salmon, needlessly used his mace. She says she told the officer to desist, that her brother would accompany him without any abuse.

She avers that after taking her brother away the defendant returned and without a warrant arrested her and sent her to No. 3 police station in a patrol wagon. She put up a forfeit of $25 for a hearing the morning following, and at that time she was discharged by the magistrate.

She states that it was the first time she was arrested and that the policeman's actions were unwarranted, and that she has been damaged in the amount asked for.

The Site for a Home.

Just now the city of McKeesport is having a phenomenal boom in real estate. Numerous plans for home sites are commanding the attention of the public. Everywhere the talk is essentially nothing but real estate, and everybody seems to be deeply interested in the recent boom of the city. Owing to the erection of the new steel plant, which is about to raze hundreds of the old tenement houses, there are thousands who are virtually clamoring for new houses. Among the sites now being on the market, there are none so beautifully attractive and so advantageously situated as Shady Place—commonly known as the "Home Spot"—for everybody. This plan of lots is handled and owned by the Gleason Improvement Company, the oldest real estate firm of the Tube City.

Shady Place is situated in the Eighth ward, McKeesport, lying in the very center of the business and residence portion of the city. It is surrounded with every convenience of public comfort, and is, therefore, not a suburban addition. No car fare is needed from or to Shady Place, as is the case with other lots seeking investors. The opening sale of lots in Shady Place is scheduled for Saturday next, and the number of lots is limited, it is necessary to apply early. Those desiring prospectus and particulars may obtain same by calling on the Gleason Improvement Company, 308 Fifth avenue, McKeesport.
